The Divinity School

Vanderbilt University 2000/2001

Containing general information and courses of study for the 2000/2001 session corrected to 1 June 2000 Nashville The University reserves the right, through its established procedures, to modify the requirements for admission and graduation and to change other rules, regulations, and provisions, including those stated in this bulletin and other publications, and to refuse admission to any student, or to require the withdrawal of a student if it is determined to be in the interest of the student or the University. All students, full- or part-time, who are enrolled in Vanderbilt courses are subject to the same policies.

Policies concerning non-curricular matters and concerning withdrawal for medical or emotional reasons can be found in the Student Handbook.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

In compliance with federal law, including the provisions of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Vanderbilt University does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, religion, color, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, or military service in its administration of educational policies, programs, or activities; its admissions policies; scholarship and loan programs; athletic or other University-administered programs; or employment.

Inquiries or complaints should be directed to the Opportunity Development Officer, Baker Building, Box 1809 Station B, Nashville, Tennessee 37235. Telephone (615) 322-4705 (V/TDD); fax (615) 421-6871.

STATEMENT ON SEXUAL ORIENTATION

Vanderbilt University is committed to the principle of non-discrimination on the basis of being or being perceived as homosexual, heterosexual, or bisexual. In affirming its commitment to this principle, the University does not limit freedom of religious association, does not require adherence to this principle by government agencies or external organizations that associate with but are not controlled by the University, and does not extend benefits beyond those provided under other policies of the University.

DIVINITY LIBRARY

Theological Education in a University Setting

THE Divinity School began in 1875, following the 1873 founding of the University. It was established as the Biblical Department of Vanderbilt University and from its opening until May 1914 was under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Since that date it has carried on its work as an ecumenical theological school under direction of the Vanderbilt University Board of Trust. In 1915, by Board of Trust action, the Biblical Department became the Divinity School, with its own dean and faculty. For more than a century the school has graduated many hundreds of men and women who have carried on their ministries in all parts of this country and throughout the world.

A new phase in the history of the Divinity School began in September 1966 with the moving of the Graduate School of Theology of Oberlin College to Vanderbilt. The growth of the faculty and the increase in financial resources resulting from this merger have made possible a broadening and strengthening of the school's academic programs and greater opportunities for service.

Purposes

The Divinity School seeks to fulfill the following objectives: to engage men and women in a theological understanding of religious traditions; to help persons, both lay and ordained, reenvision and prepare for the practice of Christian ministry in our time; to encourage individuals in their spiritual and intellectual growth; to prepare leaders who will be agents of social justice; and to educate future scholars and teachers of religion.

Degree programs enable students, with the aid of faculty advisers, to plan a course of study in light of their talents, interests, and professional objectives. Resources of the University and affiliated institutions offer rich opportunities for students to secure additional knowledge and skills in preparation for their vocations.

Commitments

The Divinity School is committed to the faith that brought the church into being, and it believes that one comes more authentically to grasp that faith by a critical and open examination of the Hebraic and Christian traditions. It understands this faith to have import for the common life of men and women in the world. Thus the school is committed to assisting its community in achieving a critical and reflective understanding of Christian faith and in discerning the implications of that faith for the church, society, and the lives of individuals. Concretely, this commitment entails the education of women and men who will be forceful representatives of the faith and effective agents in working for a more just and humane society, for the development of new and better modes of ministry, and for leadership in church and society that will help to alleviate the ills besetting individuals and groups. It entails as well the education of men and women who have, or are helped to develop, strong resources of personal faith, without which their leadership in church and community would be jeopardized.

The school affirms its commitment to do all in its power to combat the idolatry of racism and ethnocentrism that remains widespread in our society. Positively, this includes a commitment to take full account of the contributions of African Americans, Hispanic Americans, Asian Americans, and Native Americans. It requires the appointment of faculty members and the recruitment of students from these groups and adequate provision for their support. The school recognizes a special connection with the contributions of the black church to church and society and a commitment to further these contributions.

The school is committed to opposing the sexism that has characterized much of the history of the church and western culture and is still present in our society. This commitment entails the conviction that women have a larger place in the ministry and in teaching than they now enjoy. It requires appointment of women to the faculty, enrollment of a larger number of women students in all programs, and concerted effort to eliminate all forms of discrimination in attitudes, practices, and language. The school regards the use of inclusive language as an expression of its opposition to gender-based prejudice.

The school is committed to confronting the homophobia that prevails throughout much of the church and society. We recognize the rights of lesbians and gay men within the religious community and the need for the eradication of civil discrimination based on sexual orientation. This commitment involves the exploration in the curriculum of lesbian and gay concerns as well as affirmation and support of gay and lesbian people within our community.

The school is committed to a program of theological education that is open to and takes account of the religious pluralism in our world. It seeks to familiarize students with interreligious dialogue and the diverse manifestations of Christianity throughout the world, recognizing that to know one's own tradition one must know and participate in others as well. This commitment entails the appointment to the faculty of scholars in other religious traditions and from diverse branches of Christianity, as well as the provision of resources for students to study in global contexts.

The school acknowledges the close and special relationship between Judaism and Christianity, and it wants to ensure an appropriate and sympathetic understanding of the Jewish tradition. It abhors the anti-Semitism that has pervaded much of Christian history and seeks to promote productive and healing dialogue among Christians and Jews.

The school is committed to active participation in the struggles of individuals and groups for a healthier, more just, more humane, and more ecologically wholesome world. It has special concern for the oppressed, for prisoners, for the poor, for victims of warfare and militarism, for the effects of environmental destruction, and for the securing of equal opportunity for all individuals, peoples, and creatures to enjoy God's gifts.

In seeking to act upon such commitments, the school seeks to bear in mind that its fundamental task is educational. The commitment to education is primary. Even so, if such education is to be significant, the school may often be required to identify issues confronting church, society, and individuals that summon various groups within the school, or the school itself, to appropriate action.

The school is committed to conducting its work in an atmosphere conducive to free expression of opinion and judgment and in such a way as actively to enlist the insights and judgments of the church, alumni/ae, students, faculty, staff, the University community, and the larger community.

Relation to the Churches

The Divinity School is independent of any church or denomination, but in its work of preparing men and women for ministry is closely associated with the congregations and denominations of those who teach and study here. Several faculty advisers are appointed to provide assistance to students from particular denominational traditions. Many field education positions held by Divinity students are in congregational settings. Along with a concentration upon the Christian tradition, work in Judaism and in other religious traditions is offered. Most of the major Protestant as well as Roman Catholic and Jewish traditions are represented in the faculty and student body. A program of continuing education for laity is conducted in a series of evening classes with the support of a number of local congregations.

Kelly Miller Smith Institute

The Kelly Miller Smith Institute on Black Church Studies was inaugurated 12 April 1985. The Institute was established in honor of the late Kelly Miller Smith, assistant dean of the Divinity School from 1968 until his death in 1984. It perpetuates his legacy of theological and academic excellence and prophetic witness and continues his work in the black church. The Institute brings the black churches, the black community, and the Divinity School into partnership to study and examine faith and ministry issues in the black churches.

Facilities

The Divinity School quadrangle, occupied since 1960, includes class-rooms and seminar rooms, administrative and faculty offices, a refectory, audiovisual facilities, a student common room, and a space for worship and meditation. Benton Chapel, which serves as the University chapel, is named in honor of John Keith Benton, dean of the school from 1939 until 1956. In May 1970, the Board of Trust specified that the quadrangle should be named the John Frederick Oberlin Divinity Quadrangle, in commemoration of the Divinity School's merger with the Oberlin Graduate School of Theology and symbolic of the continuation at Vanderbilt of that school's long and distinguished history. In 1985 a theological bookstore was opened in the Divinity School; it is operated as a branch of Cokesbury, the retail division of the United Methodist Publishing House. The All Faith Chapel, dedicated in 1993, allows students and faculty and staff members to worship and meditate in an environment created to serve the needs of all religious traditions.

Professorships

In 1935, Mr. E. J. Buffington of Chicago donated $50,000 for the establishment of a fund to perpetuate the memory of his wife, Mrs. Drucilla Moore Buffington. This gift established the Drucilla Moore Buffington Professorship.

In 1966, two named professorships were announced by the University in connection with the merger of the Oberlin Graduate School of Theology and the Divinity School. The Charles Grandison Finney Professorship, currently held by Peter C. Hodgson, commemorates the work of this distinguished evangelist, educator, and theologian who served on the Oberlin faculty from 1835 to 1875. The Oberlin Alumni Professorship, now held by Howard L. Harrod, honors the more than 1,600 alumni/ae of Oberlin Graduate School of Theology at the time of the merger in 1966. All alumni/ae of Oberlin's School of Theology are also alumni/ae of Vanderbilt.

In 1985, a major gift from David Kirkpatrick Wilson and Anne Potter Wilson established the Anne Potter Wilson Professorship in the Divinity School. David K. Wilson was president of the Vanderbilt University Board of Trust from 1981 to 1991. Anne Wilson (d. 1986) was a founding chair of the Divinity School's giving society, Schola Prophetarum, and a charter member of the Divinity School Board of Advisors. The professorship is held by the Dean of the Divinity School.

The latter part of the twentieth century will be remembered as the time of the notable expansion of the role of women in Christian ministry and theological scholarship and education. The E. Rhodes and Leona B. Carpenter Professorship honors this important and lasting development in the Christian tradition by assuring a distinguished faculty appointment in the Divinity School that will contribute to the professional development of women by example, teaching, and research. In addition to this chair in theology, the Carpenter Foundation has endowed a professorship and

Program in Religion, Gender, and Sexuality. Amy-Jill Levine is the Carpenter Professor of New Testament Studies and director of the Carpenter Program in Religion, Gender, and Sexuality. In 1997, Cal Turner, Jr., businessman and member of the Board of Trust, established the Cal Turner Chancellor's Chair in Wesleyan Studies. The first incumbent is M. Douglas Meeks.

Two newly created professorships were filled in 1999. Jack M. Sasson was appointed to the Mary Jane Werthan Professorship in Jewish Studies, and J. Patout Burns became the Edward A. Malloy Professor of Catholic Studies.

The Library

The Divinity Library is the religion/theology division of the Jean and Alexander Heard Library. In addition to supporting the instructional and research programs of the Divinity School, Graduate Department of Religion, and the Department of Religious Studies, it serves the University community with technical studies in religion. The Divinity Library is one of the nine divisions of the Heard Library system, which collectively house over two million volumes.

The Divinity Library is particularly strong in biblical studies and maintains distinguished special collections in Judaica and Ancient Near Eastern studies. The Special Collections department of the Heard Library houses the Kelly Miller Smith Papers, a valuable collection of primary documents on African American social and religious history in Nashville and the South between 1945 and 1984.

Holdings of the Divinity Library are in open stacks, housed in the General Library Building, easily accessible to the University community. Full reference and bibliographic services are provided for library patrons in each of the library divisions.

Public computer workstations provide access to Acorn, the on-line catalog for the University Library's holdings, as well as to Web resources on campus and on the Internet.

Project IRIS provides reciprocal access to the collections held by Vanderbilt, the University of Kentucky, and the University of Tennessee. A "virtual catalog" of all three collections is available through each library's Web page, and books may be borrowed via an expedited interlibrary loan process. Similarly, cooperative relationships with Nashville area libraries (Project Athena) provide on-line access to a wide variety of collections in the city, including reciprocal-borrowing arrangements, again via an expedited ILL process. The Heard Library is also a member of the Center for Research Libraries, which serves as an extension for library resources and research materials.

The Divinity Library is a member of the American Theological Library Association and has been a participant in its Preservation Project. Extensive microfilm and microfiche resources from the 19th and 20th centuries are available in the Divinity Library, as well as on demand through ATLA.

Disciples of Christ Historical Society

The Thomas W. Phillips Memorial Building, which houses the head-quarters, library, and archives of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society, was completed in 1958 at a cost of more than $1,000,000. The Phillips Building is located adjacent to the Vanderbilt campus. Its research and study facilities are available to Vanderbilt students.

Computer Resources

Academic Computing and Information Services (ACIS), located in the Hill Center Expansion, provides computing services and resources to Vanderbilt students, faculty, and staff.

ACIS maintains and supports VUnet, the campus-wide data network that provides access to the Internet. ACIS also manages the VUnet ID service, which enables Vanderbilt users to identify themselves to certain services on VUnet. Services currently authenticated by VUnet ID include OASIS, the University's course registration system; VUmail, the University's electronic message system; and VUdirectory, the University's on-line directory service.

All campus residences are part of ResNet, which provides services for direct connection to VUnet. More information about ResNet can be found at www.vanderbilt.edu/resnet/. For dial-up connection, ACIS offers VUaccess. For more information about VUaccess, visit www.vanderbilt.edu/vuaccess/.

The ACIS Help Desk is an information center designed to help students, faculty, and staff find answers to questions about connecting to VUnet and using VUnet services. Help Desk locations, hours, and contact and other information can be found at www.vanderbilt.edu/helpdesk/.

For more information about computing at Vanderbilt, visit the "Computing at Vanderbilt" Web page, www.vanderbilt.edu/compute/.

The University

Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, who gave a million dollars to build and endow Vanderbilt University in 1873, expressed the wish that it "contribute . . . to strengthening the ties which should exist between all geographical sections of our common country."

A little more than a hundred years later, the Vanderbilt Board of Trust adopted the following mission statement: "We reaffirm our belief in the unique and special contributions that Vanderbilt can make toward meeting the nation's requirements for scholarly teaching, training, investigation, and service, and we reaffirm our conviction that to fulfill its inherited responsibilities, Vanderbilt must relentlessly pursue a lasting future and seek highest quality in its educational undertakings."

Today as Vanderbilt pursues its mission, the University more than fulfills the Commodore's hope. It is one of a few independent universities with both a quality undergraduate program and a full range of graduate and professional programs. It has a strong faculty of over 1,600 full-time members and a diverse student body of about 10,000. Students from many regions, backgrounds, and disciplines come together for multidisciplinary study and research. To that end, the University is the fortunate recipient of continued support from the Vanderbilt family and other private citizens.

The 333-acre campus is about one and one-half miles from the downtown business district of the city, combining the advantages of an urban location with a peaceful, park-like setting of broad lawns, shaded paths, and quiet plazas.

Off-campus facilities include the Arthur J. Dyer Observatory, situated on a 1,131-foot hill six miles south.

The schools of the University offer the following degrees:

College of Arts and Science. Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science.

Graduate School. Master of Arts, Master of Arts in Teaching, Master of Liberal Arts and Science, Master of Science, Doctor of Philosophy.

Blair School of Music. Bachelor of Music.

Divinity School. Master of Divinity, Master of Theological Studies. School of Engineering. Bachelor of Engineering, Bachelor of Science, Master of Engineering.

School of Law. Doctor of Jurisprudence.

School of Medicine. Doctor of Medicine.

School of Nursing. Master of Science in Nursing.

Owen Graduate School of Management. Master of Business Administration.

Peabody College. Bachelor of Science, Master of Education, Master of Public Policy, Doctor of Education.

No honorary degrees are conferred.

Accreditation

Vanderbilt University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia, Telephone number 404-679-4501) to award Bachelor's, Master's, Specialist's, and Doctor's degrees. Vanderbilt is a member of the Association of American Universities. The Divinity School is also accredited by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada.

The Divinity School Community

IVERSITY and openness are words quite descriptive of the Divinity School community. Students arrive at the campus from diverse backgrounds and religious traditions, from various parts of the country and from abroad, and with differing objectives in mind. Most students plan to enter parish ministry, but others look toward ministry in a special setting such as campus ministry, hospital chaplaincy, or college teaching. Some students pursue theological study on the way to vocations in other fields. Other students come for the intrinsic personal value of pursuing a sound theological education, without vocational objectives in mind. The result is a community of varied dimensions—exciting, challenging, and stimulating.

Alongside the academic dimensions of the school's life are numerous activities that contribute to the student's spiritual and personal development. Some of these are described below.

Worship

Worship at the Divinity School is the shared responsibility of faculty and students, superintended by a joint committee. Because of the diversity in denominational backgrounds, a variety of worship services are available to students on a regular basis. Worship is regularly scheduled each Wednesday for the entire Divinity School community. Faculty and staff, alumni/ae, local clergy, and visiting lecturers and leaders preach in one of the University chapels. Other services of worship open to the community are provided by the respective chaplains to the University. Seasons of the church year and major festivals are marked by special acts of worship.

Cole Lectures

The Cole Lectureship, established in 1893 by Colonel E. W. Cole of Nashville, brings distinguished lecturers to the campus in "defense and advocacy of the Christian religion."

Among the distinguished church leaders and theologians who have delivered the Cole Lectures are Harry Emerson Fosdick, George A. Buttrick, Rudolph Bultmann, Wilhelm Pauck, Paul Tillich, H. Richard Niebuhr, Martin Marty, Krister Stendahl, Jaroslav Pelikan, James Gustafson, Raymond Brown, Fred Craddock, Paul Ricoeur, Walter Brueggemann, Elizabeth Schuessler Fiorenza, Lou Silberman, Albert J. Raboteau, Leander Keck, Margaret Miles, Gustavo Gutierrez, Wendy Doniger, Enrique Dussel, E. Brooks Holifield, Rebecca S. Chopp, Sheila Greeve Davaney, James Cone, Donald Beisswenger, Edward Farley, James Barr, and David Buttrick.

The Antoinette Brown Lectures

This lectureship is made possible by a gift from Sylvia Sanders Kelley of Atlanta, Georgia. The lectures began in 1974 and are intended to "bring to the school distinguished women theologians to speak on concerns for women in ministry." The lectureship is named for Antoinette Brown, the first woman ordained to the Christian ministry in the United States (1853).

Antoinette Brown Lectures have been delivered by Beverly Harrison, Phyllis Trible, Rosemary Ruether, Elizabeth Schuessler Fiorenza, Eleanor McLaughlin, Claire Randall, Carter Heyward, Ada Maria Isasi-Diaz, Yvonne Delk, Sallie McFague, Carol Christ, Joan Chittister, Toinette Eugene, Bernice Johnson Reagon, Eleanor Scott Meyers, Sheila Briggs, Katie Geneva Cannon, Rita Nakashima Brock, Sharon D. Welch, Mary Ann Tolbert, Elizabeth A. Johnson, Elizabeth A. Clark, Jacquelyn Grant, Letty Russell, Diana Eck, and Renita Weems.

GDR Colloquia

The Graduate Department of Religion Colloquia are frequent occasions when graduate students gather to hear a lecture by some distinguished scholar. Lecturers in recent years have included Langdon Gilkey, John Cobb, Gordon Kaufman, James Robinson, Fred Craddock, Paul Lehmann, Paul Ricoeur, W. D. Davies, Ernest Nicholson, Jose Miguez-Bonino, Helmer Ringgren, Paul Knitter, Richard Schaull, C. K. Barrett, Edwin S. Gaustad, Brooks Holifield, Rebecca Chopp, Elizabeth Clark, Mark A. Noll, Mark Kline Taylor, Robert Wilken, Paul F. Knitter, Maurice Wiles, Erhard Gerstenberger, Edward Greenstein, and John Baines. The colloquia are open also to interested Divinity students.

The Student Association

Divinity students and graduate students in religion are members of the Student Association. Students, through their elected representatives, have an active part in all decision-making in the Divinity School, including faculty development, academic policies, curricular issues, and community events. The Student Association publishes an occasional journal, Prospectus, and sponsors a wide range of activities. The Fall Picnic, Christmas dinners, Spring Gala, community forums, and numerous other activities are coordinated by student committees and are well attended by faculty and students.

Office of Women's Concerns

The Office of Women's Concerns was established in 1974 to provide for the needs and interests of women in the Divinity School and the Graduate Department of Religion. As the official arm of Vanderbilt Women in Religion, the Women's Office seeks to encourage the discussion of women's issues, provide opportunities for women's personal and professional growth, increase awareness of the contributions of women to religion and theology, and create opportunities for community among women. The Women's Office also serves as a resource center. Bibliographies of publications by and about women, Divinity School guidelines for sex-inclusive language, and professional referrals are all available through the office.

Black Seminarians

The Vanderbilt chapter of Black Seminarians was organized in 1977 as a means of giving black students support in a predominantly white educational context. All black students in the Divinity School and the Graduate Department of Religion are members. The organization is led by students who coordinate activities with other Black Seminarian chapters.

Office of Lesbian, Gay, and Bisexual Concerns

The Office of Lesbian, Gay, and Bisexual Concerns was organized in 1991 and is dedicated to addressing the issues of homophobia and heterosexism in religious life, society, and the academy. The Office provides a positive, safe environment that affirms the rights of lesbian, gay, and bisexual persons; it suggests ways in which the Divinity School and Graduate Department of Religion can fulfill their commitment to confronting homophobia in our society; it provides educational opportunities for all members of the Divinity School/Graduate Department of Religion community. Membership is open to all Divinity School and Graduate Department of Religion students, faculty, and staff who are committed to working toward the goals of the Office. The rights to confidentiality of students, faculty, and staff who participate in the Office are honored. The work of the Office is coordinated by a student steering committee.

United Methodist Studies

In 1985, the Divinity School initiated a program of United Methodist Studies, designed to provide opportunities for United Methodist students to learn more about the life and traditions of their denomination. Under the direction of Professor M. Douglas Meeks, the program offers students opportunities for fellowship, for investigation of recent developments in church life through visiting speakers, and for study of the history and theology of United Methodism through general and specialized courses. Nashville is an important center for United Methodist boards and agencies; here, experts converge from all across the church. These persons, who have acquired knowledge and insight vital to effective Christian ministry, are used for leadership roles in this program. More detailed information can be obtained by writing to Professor Meeks.

Life at Vanderbilt

ANDERBILT provides a full complement of auxiliary services to meet the personal needs of students, to make life on the campus comfortable and enjoyable, and to provide the proper setting for academic endeavor.

Graduate Student Council

The Graduate Student Council, consisting of one student representative from each graduate program, serves to ascertain graduate student opinion and communicate it appropriately. The council and its committees are available to students and members of the administration and faculty for consultation regarding matters concerning the Graduate School and the graduate student body.

Housing Facilities

The Office of Residential and Judicial Affairs provides apartment-style housing for as many graduate students as possible. Applications for housing will be mailed to all admitted students during the spring. Questions should be addressed to the Office of Residential and Judicial Affairs, Station B 351677, Nashville, Tennessee 37235. A $200 deposit is required at the time of application. Returning residents of University housing will be permitted to renew their leases until May 1. Incoming students in graduate and professional schools will receive priority for the remaining available housing for the fall if their applications are received by May 1. Any returning student may apply for on-campus housing by filing an application with a $200 deposit. After May 1, assignment is made on the basis of the date of application.

Apartments are leased for the entire academic year. Students who are assigned space on the campus are therefore committed for one year and should understand that only withdrawal from the University will cause the lease to be terminated.

Residential occupancy is subject to the terms and conditions of a lease executed by the occupants. Only full-time students at Vanderbilt are eligible for campus apartments. Apartments must be vacated within twenty-four hours if the occupants cease to be students.

University housing for graduate and professional students is available in the following facilities:

Lewis House, on the south side of campus, is an eleven-story apartment building with air-conditioned efficiency, one-bedroom, and two-bedroom apartments. Undergraduates live on the lower four floors.

The Family Housing Complex, located at the eastern edge of campus on Eighteenth Avenue South, has air-conditioned, town-house apartments with living room and kitchen downstairs and two bedrooms and bath upstairs. The apartments are designed for families with children.

The Garrison Apartment complex on Eighteenth Avenue South has air-conditioned efficiency and one-bedroom units. Single as well as married students are assigned here. TeleVU, the residence hall cable television system, and ResNet, the residential data network, are available in all apartments in Lewis House, Family Housing, and Garrison Apartments.

For additional information, consult the Housing Web site at www.van-derbilt.edu/ResEd/.

Disciples Divinity House

Vanderbilt Divinity School is one of seven approved theological schools affiliated with the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). The Disciples maintain a presence at Vanderbilt through the Disciples Divinity House. The primary purpose of the House is to facilitate the education of ministers for congregations of the Christian Church. The Disciples Divinity House provides scholarship support and low-cost housing to Disciples studying at the Divinity School.

The House itself, two blocks from the Divinity School, features single rooms and small apartments, an office for the dean, and shared kitchen, dining, and recreation areas. The House serves as a center of community and identity for Disciples students at the Divinity School, informally and through structured programs such as the monthly House meals and seminars in ministry.

The dean of the Disciples Divinity House is also a member of the faculty and can be reached either at the Divinity School or at the Disciples Divinity House, 1917 Adelicia Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee 37212, (615) 321-0380.

Off-Campus Housing

The Office of Residential and Judicial Affairs maintains a listing of available off-campus accommodations in the Nashville area. The majority of rental property is close to the campus. Cost, furnishings, and conditions vary greatly. For best choices, students seeking off-campus housing should visit the office by early July for suggestions and guidance, or consult the Web site at www.vanderbilt.edu/ResEd/2off_cam.html.

Change of Address

Students who change either their local or permanent mailing address are expected to notify school and University registrars immediately. Candidates for degrees who are not in residence should keep the school and University Registrar informed of current mailing addresses.

The Vanderbilt Card

The Vanderbilt Card is the student ID card. It can be used to access debit spending accounts, the Dinner Plan, and campus buildings such as residence halls, libraries, academic buildings, and the Student Recreation Center.

Vanderbilt Cards are issued at the Vanderbilt University Card Office from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at 184 Sarratt Student Center. For more information, see the Web site at www.vanderbilt.edu/vucard.

Eating on Campus

Vanderbilt Dining operates several food facilities throughout campus that provide a variety of food and services. The largest dining facility is Two Avenues Marketplace located in Rand Hall behind the Sarratt Student Center. Two Avenues serves breakfast, lunch, and dinner, Monday through Friday. Seven convenience stores on campus offer grab-and-go snacks, beverages, and groceries. Three of the stores have hot food and made-to-order items. All units accept the Vanderbilt Card, cash, or checks. For more information, visit the Web site at www.vanderbilt.edu/dining.

Services to Students

Student Records (Buckley Amendment)

Vanderbilt University is subject to the provisions of federal law known as the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (also referred to as the Buckley Amendment or FERPA). This act affords students certain rights with respect to their educational records. These rights include:

The right to inspect and review their education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access. Students should submit to the University Registrar written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The University Registrar will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the University Registrar does not maintain the records, the student will be directed to the university official to whom the request should be addressed.

The right to request the amendment of any part of their education records that a student believes is inaccurate or misleading. Students who wish to request an amendment to their educational record should write the University official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the University decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the student will be notified of the decision and advised of his or her right to a hearing.

The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records to third parties, except in situations that FERPA allows disclosure without consent. One such situation is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted; a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

The Buckley Amendment provides the University the ability to designate certain student information as "directory information." Directory information may be made available to any person without the student's consent unless the student gives notice as provided for below. Vanderbilt has designated the following as directory information: the student's name, addresses, telephone number, e-mail address, date and place of birth, major field of study, school, classification, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weights and heights of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the student, and other similar information. Any student who does not wish disclosure of directory information should notify the University Registrar in writing. Such notification must be received by August 1st to assure that the student's address and phone number do not appear in any printed Vanderbilt directory. No element of directory information as defined above is released for students who request nondisclosure. The request to withhold directory information will remain in effect as long as the student continues to be enrolled, or until the student files a written request with the University Registrar to discontinue the withholding. To continue nondisclosure of directory information after a student ceases to be enrolled, a written request for continuance must be filed with the University Registrar during the student's last term of attendance.

If a student believes the University has failed to comply with the Buckley Amendment, he or she may file a complaint using the Student Complaint and Grievance Procedure as outlined in the Student Handbook. If dissatisfied with the outcome of this procedure, a student may file a written complaint with the Family Policy and Regulations Office, U.S. Department of Education, Washington, D.C. 20202.

Questions about the application of the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act should be directed to the University Registrar or to the Office of University Relations and General Counsel.

Vanderbilt Telephone Directory Listings

Individual listings in the student section of the Vanderbilt Directory will consist of the student's full name, school, academic classification, local phone number, local address, box number, and permanent address. Students who want their names to be excluded from the directory must notify the University Registrar, 134 Magnolia Circle, in writing, by 1 August. See the Web site at http://directory.vanderbilt.edu for more information.

In addition to the paper Vanderbilt Directory, there is also an on-line VUnet e-mail directory accessible both on- and off-campus via the World Wide Web. At the time students initially set up their VUnet IDs and passwords, they have the option of withholding their e-mail address from this directory if they so choose. For more information, see the Web site, www.vanderbilt.edu/VUnet.

Psychological and Counseling Center

The Psychological and Counseling Center is a broad-based service center available to students, faculty, staff, and their immediate families. Services include: 1) family, couples, individual, and group counseling and psychotherapy; 2) psychological and educational assessment; 3) career assessment and counseling; assertiveness training; marital communication; individual study skills techniques; weight, stress, and time management; group support programs for learning skills such as relaxation; administration of national testing programs; 4) outreach and consultation with departments; special programming related to diversity issues; campus speakers and educational programs.

Eligible persons may make appointments by visiting the Center or by calling 322-2571. Services are confidential to the extent permitted by law. For more information, see the Web site, www.vanderbilt.edu/pcc.

Career Center

The Vanderbilt Career Center helps students and alumni of Vanderbilt University develop and implement career plans. This is accomplished by offering a variety of services and educational programs that help students and alumni determine career options, learn job search skills, gain career-related experience, and connect with employers and graduate/professional schools.

Services include individual career advising; career resource center; graduate and professional school services; career-related seminars and workshops; resume consultation; video interview training; internship information service; career fairs; campus interviews; part-time and full-time job listings; resume referrals; and alumni services. For detailed information about the Career Center, view the Web site at www.vander-bilt.edu/career.

Student Health Center

The Vanderbilt Student Health Center (SHC) in the Zerfoss Building is a student-oriented facility that provides routine and acute medical care similar to services rendered in a private physician's office or HMO.

The following primary care health services are provided to students registered in degree status without charge and without copayment: visits to staff physicians and nurse practitioners; personal and confidential counseling by mental health professionals; routine procedures; educational information and speakers for campus groups; some routine laboratory tests that are performed at the SHC; and specialty clinics held at the SHC.

These SHC primary care services are designed to complement the student's own insurance policy, HMO, MCO, etc., coverage to provide comprehensive care. Students are billed for any services provided outside the SHC or by the Vanderbilt University Medical Center.

Dr. John W. Greene, director of the Student Health Center, is a tenured faculty member of the Vanderbilt University School of Medicine. The entire medical staff is composed of physicians and nurse practitioners who have chosen student health as a primary interest and responsibility.

The Zerfoss Student Health Center is open from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 8:30 a.m. until noon on Saturday, except during scheduled breaks and summer. Students should call ahead to schedule appointments (322-2427). A student with an urgent problem will be given an appointment that same day, or "worked in" if no appointment is available. When the Health Center is closed, students needing acute medical care may go to the Emergency Department of Vanderbilt University Hospital. They will be charged by the VU Medical Center for Emergency Department services.

Students may also call 322-2427 for twenty-four-hour emergency phone consultation, which is available seven days a week (except during summer and scheduled academic breaks). On call Student Health professionals take calls after regular hours. Calls between 11:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m. are handled by the Vanderbilt University Emergency Department triage staff. More information is available on the Web site, www.vanderbilt.edu/student_health/vush.htm.

Student Accident and Sickness Insurance Plan

All degree-seeking students registered for 4 or more hours at Vanderbilt are required to have adequate health insurance coverage. The University offers a sickness and accident insurance plan that is designed to provide hospital, surgical, and major medical benefits. A brochure explaining the limits, exclusions, and benefits of insurance coverage is available to students at registration, in the Office of Student Accounts, or at the Student Health Center.

The annual premium is in addition to tuition and is automatically billed to the student's account. Coverage extends from 12 August until 11 August of the following year, whether a student remains in school or is away from the University.

A student who does not want to subscribe to the insurance plan offered through the University must notify the Office of Student Accounts of adequate coverage under another policy. A new student must complete and return the selection/waiver card that is available at registration or in the Office of Student Accounts. This card must be submitted at or by registration for the fall or spring semester. A selection/waiver card indicating comparable coverage must be completed every year in order to waive participation in the Student Accident and Sickness Insurance Plan.

Family Coverage. Additional premiums are charged for family hospital coverage. Married students who want to provide coverage for their families may secure application forms by contacting the on-campus Chickering representative, 322-4688.

International Student Coverage

International students and their dependents residing in the United States are required to purchase the University's international student health and accident insurance plan. No exceptions are made unless, in the judgment of the University, adequate coverage is provided from some other source. This insurance is required for part-time as well as full-time students. Information and application forms are provided through the Student Health Center.

Services for Students with Disabilities

Vanderbilt is committed to the provisions of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and Americans with Disabilities Act as it strives to be an inclusive community for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodations for any type of disability are encouraged to contact the Opportunity Development Center. Services include, but are not limited to, extended time for testing, assistance with locating sign language interpreters, audio-taped textbooks, physical adaptations, notetakers, and reading services. Accommodations are tailored to meet the needs of each student with a documented disability. The Opportunity Development Center also serves as a resource regarding complaints of unlawful discrimination as defined by state and federal laws.

Each school has appointed a University Disability Monitor responsible for monitoring and improving disability services in academic programs. Contact your dean to find out the Disability Monitor for your school. Specific concerns pertaining to services for people with disabilities or any disability issue should be directed to the Assistant Director for Disability Services, Opportunity Development Center, Station B 1809, Nashville, Tennessee 37235; phone 322-4705 (V/TDD); fax 343-0671; www.vanderbilt.edu/odc/.

Child Care Center

Vanderbilt Child Care Center operates as a service to University staff members, faculty members, and students. The program serves children from six weeks to five years of age. The Center is accredited by the National Academy of Early Childhood Programs.

Police and Security Department

The mission of the Police and Security Department (322-2745) is to protect and serve students, faculty, staff, and the public. Campus police officers are carefully selected through a rigorous process to ensure suitability for campus police work. They are required to complete basic police recruit training at a certified police academy and meet annual in-service training requirements. In addition, they are commissioned through the authority of the Chief of Police of the Metropolitan Government of Nashville and Davidson County.

In order to meet its obligations and duty to the Vanderbilt community, the Police and Security Department has programs and services in place to educate and protect our community. VUPD operates a SafeTrips program consisting of two full services. The first component is a van that makes six stops on campus continuously from dusk until 2:00 a.m. The other component is a walking escort on campus during the hours of darkness. The telephone number for the walking escort service is 1-8888.

Blue light emergency telephones are strategically placed around the campus. When activated, these phones automatically access VUPD's twenty-four-hour emergency line. Using this phone automatically identifies the area of the caller to our communications division. The emergency line can also be called by dialing 421-1911 (1-1911 on campus). The emergency phone system should be used to report medical emergencies, crimes in progress, fires, or to request immediate assistance for a lifethreatening situation. For emergency situations that happen off campus, individuals should use 911 for response by local police, fire, and medical services.

The Crime Prevention Division of the Police and Security Department offers several programs to increase awareness among the Vanderbilt community and its neighbors. In addition to these services, it publishes and distributes informational resources on a variety of crime prevention topics. For further information on available programs and literature, call 322-2558 or e-mail crimeprevention.atwood@vanderbilt.edu.

Recovered property may be turned in at any time to the Police and Security Department. Inquiries about lost items may be made by contacting VUPD's Lost and Found Office, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. The telephone number is 343-5371.

Information on security measures and a summary of crime statistics for the Vanderbilt campus are available from the Police and Security Department, 2800 Vanderbilt Place, Nashville, Tennessee 37212. More information is available from the Web site, www.vanderbilt.edu/VUPD/vupdhome.htm.

Parking and Vehicle Registration

Parking space on campus is limited. Motor vehicles operated on campus at any time by students, faculty, or staff must be registered with the Office of Traffic and Parking in the Wesley Place Garage. A fee is charged. Parking regulations are published annually and are strictly enforced. More information is available at www.vanderbilt.edu/traffic_parking/.

Bicycles must be registered with the Police and Security Department.

Bishop Joseph Johnson Black Cultural Center

The Bishop Joseph Johnson Black Cultural Center (BJJBCC) provides African American educational and cultural programming for the University community, and retention services for African American students. Dedicated in 1984, and named for the first African American student admitted to Vanderbilt, Bishop Joseph Johnson (B.D. '54, Ph.D. '58), the Center reinforces Vanderbilt's effort to promote diversity through the development of programs that foster understanding and appreciation of the African American experience.

The Center provides a "home away from home" environment for African American students and sponsors lectures, symposia, academic materials, art exhibitions and other activities for the University and the community. Programs are publicized in a monthly campus calendar and a monthly newsletter, News from the House, which is distributed to African American students and other campus addresses by request. The Black Student Alliance (BSA) and the Cultural Center Advisory Board work closely with the Center. The Center is open to the campus for small meetings and gatherings. More information is available on the Web site, www.vanderbilt.edu/BCC/.

Margaret Cuninggim Women's Center

The Women's Center was established in 1978 to provide support for women at Vanderbilt as well as resources about women, gender, and feminism for the University community. In 1987, the Center was named in memory of Margaret Cuninggim, dean of women and later dean of student services at Vanderbilt.

Programs for students, staff, and faculty are scheduled throughout the fall and spring semesters and are publicized on the Web site, <code>www.vander-bilt.edu/WomensCenter/womenctr.htm</code>, and in the monthly newsletter <code>Women's VU</code>, which is distributed without charge to campus addresses on request. A student group that works closely with the Women's Center, Students for Women's Concerns, is open to all interested students, both male and female.

The Center houses a small library with an excellent collection of unbound materials such as clippings and reprints, as well as journals, books, and tapes. Books and tapes circulate for three weeks. Copy facilities are available.

Religious Life

The Office of the University Chaplain and Affiliated Ministries exists to provide occasions for religious reflection and avenues for service, worship, and action. There are many opportunities to clarify one's values, examine personal faith, and develop a sense of social responsibility. Major service projects through the Office of Volunteer Activities include Alternative Spring Break, Vanderbilt Prison Project, and Habitat for Humanity.

The Holocaust and Martin Luther King Jr. lecture series, as well as Project Dialogue, provide lectures and programs investigating moral issues, political problems, and religious questions.

Baptist, Episcopal, Jewish, Presbyterian, Reformed University Fellowship, Roman Catholic, and United Methodist chaplains work with individuals and student groups. Provisions for worship are also made for other student religious groups.

Extracurricular Activities

Sarratt Student Center

The Sarratt Student Center (www.vanderbilt.edu/sarratt), named for former mathematics professor and dean of students, Madison Sarratt, provides a variety of facilities, programs, and activities. The Center houses a cinema; an art gallery, art studios and darkrooms for classes and individual projects; work and office spaces for student organizations; comfortable reading and study lounges fully wired for Internet access; large and small meeting rooms; and large, open commons and courtyard areas for receptions or informal gathering. The Center also houses the Overcup Oak restaurant, Stonehenge Cafe, and leads directly to Rand Dining Room and the Varsity Market. The student center's six student-run committees plan concerts, film screenings, classes, speakers, receptions, gallery showings, and many other events throughout the campus. The Center's Welcome Desk serves as a campus information center and is a TicketmasterTM outlet, handling ticket sales for most of the University's and Nashville's cultural events. Sarratt Student Center has just completed an extensive renovation project and now is home to Student Affairs, the Office of the Dean of Students, the Vanderbilt Card Office, and Vanderbilt Student Communications (including student newspaper, radio station, and yearbook).

Recreation and Sports

Graduate and professional students are encouraged to participate in the many physical activity classes, intramurals, and sport clubs offered by the University. All students pay a mandatory recreation fee which supports facilities, fields, and programs (see the chapter on Financial Information). Spouses must also pay a fee to use the facilities.

Physical activity classes offered include swimming, volleyball, racquetball, fly fishing, and scuba, along with rock climbing and kayaking. Twenty-five sport clubs provide opportunity for participation in such favorites as sailing, fencing, rugby, and various martial arts.

The University recreation facilities include gymnasiums, tracks, and four softball diamonds. The five lighted multipurpose playing fields are irrigated and maintained to assure prime field conditions.

The Student Recreation Center houses a swimming pool; three courts for basketball, volleyball, and badminton; six racquetball and two squash courts; a weight and Nautilus room; a wood-floor activity room; a rock-climbing wall; an indoor track; a mat room; locker rooms; a Wellness Center; and the Time-Out Cafe. Lighted outside basketball and sand volleyball courts and an outdoor recreation facility complement the center.

The Academic Programs

THE Divinity School is open to all qualified students who wish to engage in the study of theology and the broad field of religion. The Master of Divinity (M.Div.) program is intended primarily for individuals interested in the possibilities of ministry and in the subject matter involved in preparation for such a vocation. Persons who have not made definite commitment to the practice of ministry are admitted to this program and can be helped to clarify their objectives during the course of their study. The Master of Theological Studies (M.T.S.) program is designed for persons interested in pursuing graduate study across the several theological disciplines, but who are not, in most cases, intending to pursue ordained ministry. Students preparing for research and teaching in the field of religion who possess appropriate and significant academic work in religious studies may consider applying for admission to the Master of Arts or Doctor of Philosophy degree programs offered by the Graduate School.

The M.Div. Degree

The aim of the Master of Divinity program is to begin a process of education focusing on understanding the Christian faith and its implications for human life. The vocation of Christian ministry is to interpret and represent Christian faith and to explore ways by which that faith can be embodied in the lives of people, the churches, and society.

The faculty believes that all courses in the curriculum should contribute to this aim: the study of backgrounds, origins, and traditions; reflection on problems of faith and on moral, ecclesiastical, and social issues in the contemporary situation; and consideration of occasions of ministry, such as worship, preaching, counseling, administration, education, and social reform. All of these studies and activities presuppose each other and relate to each other in essential ways. The minister is a theologian, and as such draws on the full range of critical studies and reflection in his or her varied activities.

The M.Div. program is designed to prepare men and women for the practice of ministry, although a definite commitment to the ministry is not prerequisite to admission.

The M.Div. Program

A minimum of 84 semester hours of course work is required for the Master of Divinity degree. All degree requirements must be completed within seven years of the semester of entrance. Students may take up to 12 hours of graduate-level course work in other Vanderbilt University departments and may count these hours toward requirements for graduation. Such outside course work is subject to the rules that apply to transfer work.

Each student upon entrance is assigned a first year faculty adviser and is expected to work closely with that person in developing his or her course of study. After completion of approximately 28 hours, the student is assigned to a program adviser for the remainder of his or her M.Div. work. The program adviser guides the student through the development of the Program Focus, the Senior Seminar, and the Senior Project.

The Foundation Curriculum

Courses in the Foundation Curriculum are designed to help each student secure an educational grounding for the practice of ministry. This part of the curriculum totals 34 semester hours and is required of all students.

It is possible that some students will enter upon their theological studies with previous work in one or more basic foundation subjects. Students may opt to waive individual courses, provided they have taken solid course work in the area at the undergraduate level. They may opt to transfer courses, provided they have taken them at the graduate level. Waivers and transfer work must be approved by the Associate Dean. If a waiver or transfer is granted, another course in the same subject area must be taken. Students should consult with their advisers about the matter.

The student should note that some foundation courses have an established place in the program of study and thus must be taken in proper sequence. Other foundation courses can be taken at the student's initiative. Students must begin their course of study with foundation courses. Approximately half of the foundation courses should be completed in the first year; the remaining courses may be taken in the second and third years.

Field Education is an important part of the Foundation Curriculum. Its purpose is to contribute to the student's theological education, professional competence, and personal growth through selected supervised learning experiences. The program is designed to complement the academic program by involving students in specific off-campus settings in which their theological capabilities and professional development can be enhanced. This goal is accomplished by giving students a participatory role within the church and society—a role that requires a style of life characterized by both involvement and reflection.

Unless stated to the contrary, courses in the Foundation Curriculum do not have prerequisites. Detailed descriptions of the courses in the Foundation Curriculum may be found under Courses of Study.

- 1. The student shall complete each of the following courses:
- 2503. The Literature, Religion, and Faith of Ancient Israel. [3] Must be taken before the completion of 28 semester hours.
- 2511. The Literature, Religion, and Faith of Early Christianity. [3] Must be taken before the completion of 28 semester hours.
- 2513. Biblical Criticism: History and Traditions. [3] Ordinarily taken in the first year.
- 2655. Theology Primer. [1] Ordinarily taken in the first year. Must be taken prior to 2656.
- 2656. Constructive Christian Theology. [3] Ordinarily taken in the second year. Prerequisite: 2655.
- 2758. Ethics in Theological Perspective. [3] Prerequisite: three courses from the Foundation Curriculum.
- 2. Each student shall complete one of the following courses, which may require various prerequisites from the Foundation Curriculum (see course descriptions under Courses of Study):
- 2550. Theological Foundations of Pastoral Care. [3]
- 2556. Leadership and Ministry. [3]
- 2759. Theology of Proclamation and Worship. [3]
- 2775. The Minister as Theological Educator. [3]
- 3. Each student shall complete either both courses in Group A or one course from Group A and one from Group B.

Group A

- 2701. The Formation of the Catholic Tradition. [3]
- 2703. Christianity in the Reformation Era. [3]

Group B

- 2704. Modern European Christianity. [3]
- 2750. The History of Religion in America. [3]
- 4. Each student shall complete two units of Field Education (a minimum of 9 semester hours). One placement will be in a congregational setting, and the other will be in a non-parish setting (i.e., agency, hospital, etc.). Consultation with the Field Education staff is required before registration. Grades for Field Education courses are recorded as Credit, No Credit, or Honors.
- 5006. Supervised Ministry and Seminar. Required. Academic year: FALL and SPRING. [3-3] This course is prerequisite for most of the other Field Education courses. Ordinarily taken in the second year.

Each student shall complete one other course from the list below:

4116. Cross-Cultural Seminar. [3] FALL or SPRING or SUMMER.

5007. Clinical Pastoral Education. [6] FALL or SPRING or SUMMER.

5008. Summer Intensive in Field Education. Summer following the second year. [6] Prerequisite: 5006.

5010. Year-long Internship. Academic year: FALL and SPRING. [6 or 9] Prerequisite: 5006.

5011. Advanced Supervised Ministry and Seminar. Academic year: FALL and SPRING. [3–3] Prerequisite: 5006.

5012. Special Project in Field Education. FALL or SPRING or SUMMER. [1–6] Prerequisite: 5006.

5014. Independent Study and Practicum in Field Education. FALL or SPRING or SUM-MER. [3] Prerequisite: 5006.

The Program Focus

The Program Focus is a block of courses organized around a question, theme, issue, or aspect of ministry, individually designed by each student in association with his or her adviser. It consists of 24 hours of course work and a 3-hour senior project. This is not a major in the usual sense of the term (i.e., courses selected from one area of theological study, such as church history or ethics) nor is it an aggregate of courses chosen at random. Rather, the Program Focus requires students to select courses over several areas of study in order to discover resources with which to address a particular issue or problem of interest. Normally, these courses will include knowledge of the Christian tradition, normative and critical treatment of that tradition, and insight into the juncture of tradition and situation, including issues involving concrete acts of ministry. The Program Focus, finally, is intended to provide a significant component in the understanding and realization of the theme of "minister as theologian."

Because an important part of the Program Focus is the reflection involved in a student's creation of it, the process of clarifying a topic is crucial to its success. This process begins with questions—questions about the individual's commitments and vocational goals; questions about ministry and the church; questions about the Christian faith. After reflecting on such questions individually, with other students, and with an adviser, each student should arrive at a "focus" that will be the center of this part of the M.Div. program. Ordinarily, the Program Focus is formulated during a student's second year in the Divinity School, although earlier consideration is recommended. A written document containing a basic description of the central theme, a rationale for the theme and for the courses proposed for the Program Focus, and a list of these courses must be approved by the student's adviser and filed with the registrar. If a proposal for a Program Focus has not been approved, a student will not be permitted to preregister for work beyond 54 earned hours or enroll in Senior Seminar and Project (5002).

Field Education in the Program Focus

Students may elect additional field education beyond that required as a part of the Foundation Curriculum. There are several ways to incorporate field work into individual programs. For example, students interested in hospital chaplaincy might consider a year-long Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) program. An interest in liberation theology might lead to placement in a feminist organization, in the Third World, or in a black church. Students in the dual-degree programs can develop joint placements.

As the Program Focus develops, students selecting additional field education should maintain contact with the Field Education office. A lead time of four to six months is needed for the development of any field education placement in connection with the Program Focus.

Required Course in the Program Focus

5002. Senior Seminar and Project. [0-3] Third year.

The Senior Project provides an occasion for dealing with an aspect of one's Program Focus in a concrete way. Ideas for the eventual extended essay are considered in seminar groups under the direction of a faculty adviser. These groups meet several times in the fall semester. The completed project is due in early March for graduation in May. Each project will have two faculty readers, with the second being assigned by the Associate Dean. Grades for the project are Honors, Credit, or No Credit. Once again, this component is intended as an opportunity to explore the theme of "minister as theologian" and to conclude the program with an independent study that contributes to the integration of one's theological education.

Electives

The M.Div. program of studies includes 23 hours of electives, courses that may be chosen simply because of the student's interest in the subject matter, without requiring any rationale.

Theology Requirements

In addition to the required foundation courses, 2655 and 2656, students are required to complete at least one 3-hour elective in theology selected from the following list; petitions for substitutes will be considered. Normally, transfer work will not be considered. This additional 3-hour course in theology may not be used to meet the cluster requirements noted below. Reading courses do not fulfill the theology requirements. Semester and year information is indicated for courses listed below. Listings for 2001 through 2003 are tentative and subject to change.

SECOND YEAR.

5006. Supervised Ministry and Seminar. Academic year: FALL AND SPRING. [3-3] Required before completing 54 hours.

2656. Constructive Christian Theology. Prerequisite: 2655, Theology Primer. FALL. [3]

2758. Ethics in Theological Perspective. SPRING. [3]

Additional work, including courses from the Foundation Curriculum or electives.

SUMMER.

Field Education Courses. Consult with Field Education Staff.

THIRD YEAR

5002. Senior Seminar and Project. FALL AND SPRING. [0-3]

Second unit of Field Education 4116, 5007, 5008, 5010, 5011, 5012, or 5014). Additional work from the Foundation Curriculum or electives.

For a variety of reasons, a number of students find it necessary to complete the M.Div. program in more than three years. In such cases, students should consult with the Office of the Associate Dean.

The M.T.S. Degree

The Master of Theological Studies program is designed for persons interested in pursuing graduate study across the several theological disciplines, but who are not, in most cases, intending to pursue ordained ministry. Such a degree program may serve as a foundation for later doctoral studies in religion or for diaconal ministries in certain denominations, as well as a vehicle for the enhancement of one's own religious faith and understanding.

The degree requires a minimum of 51 semester hours, which will normally be completed in four semesters of full-time study. The degree must be completed within five years from the term of matriculation. The program consists of three parts: Foundation Curriculum, Area of Concentration or Comprehensive Focus, and Electives, as described below.

No more than 6 hours taken outside of the Divinity School (that is, in other schools of the University) are counted toward the requirements for the degree; this work must be justified on the basis of coherence with the student's program and have the adviser's approval.

A maximum of 12 semester hours may be transferred from other approved theological schools or 6 hours of other graduate study that is coherent with the student's program. Students may transfer work from both approved theological schools and from appropriate graduate study to the M.T.S. program, but the total number of hours applied toward the M.T.S. degree may not exceed 12 semester hours. Pass/Fail options are not available in the M.T.S. program. The Office of the Associate Dean must approve all applications for transfer credit.

The Foundation Curriculum

Courses in the Foundation Curriculum are designated to be broad introductions to the several areas of theological study. This part of the program totals 19 semester hours. Students may opt to waive individual courses, provided they have taken solid course work in the area at the undergraduate level. They may opt to transfer courses, provided they have taken them at the graduate level. Waivers and transfer work must be approved by the Associate Dean. If a waiver or transfer is granted, another course in the same area must be taken. In several of the categories listed, there are options from which the student can choose.

- 1. Two courses in biblical studies:
- 2503. Literature, Religion, and Faith of Ancient Israel
- 2511. Literature, Religion, and Faith of Early Christianity
 - 2. One course in historical studies, drawn from:
- 2701. Formation of the Catholic Tradition
- 2703. Christianity in the Reformation Era
- 2704. Modern European Christianity
- 2750. History of Religion in America
 - 3. Two courses in theology:
- 2655. Theology Primer [1] Must be taken prior to 2656
- 2656. Constructive Christian Theology Prerequisite: 2655
 - 4. One course in ethics:
- 2758. Ethics in Theological Perspective
 - 5. One of the following:
- 2550. Theological Foundations of Pastoral Care
- 2556. Leadership and Ministry
- 2759. Theology of Proclamation and Worship
- 2775. The Minister as Theological Educator
 - or a Field Education Course:
- 5006. Supervised Ministry and Seminar
- 5007. Clinical Pastoral Education
- 5012. Special Project in Field Education
- 5014. Independent Study and Practicum in Field Education
- 4116. Cross-Cultural Seminar

The Area of Concentration or Comprehensive Focus

In this section a student may choose one of two ways of constructing a focus of 15 semester hours. One is to select these hours from one of the curricular areas of the Divinity School: Church, Ministry, and Community; Pastoral Theology and Counseling; Homiletics and Liturgics; Bible; History of Christianity; Theology; Ethics; or History and Critical Theories of Religion. A second is to develop a focus in relation to a particular theme, problem, issue, or method, which utilizes courses from more than one curricular area. A student proposing such a focus must present it in writing and have it approved by his or her adviser and the Associate Dean. The appropriate time for seeking such approval is approximately half-way through one's course of study.

Electives

The remainder of the M.T.S. program consists of 17 hours of electives. If a student chooses an area of concentration, the electives shall be selected from other curricular areas. If the area of concentration is in Bible, however, introductory biblical language courses will be counted as electives. M.T.S. students who anticipate further graduate work in religion may wish to pursue the study of modern languages (e.g., Spanish, French, German). Although the Divinity School does not presently offer formal instruction in these languages during the academic year, intensive noncredit instruction is arranged each summer for students in the Graduate Department of Religion. M.T.S. students interested in pursuing these courses should contact the Vanderbilt Graduate Department of Religion.

Students who desire to conclude their degree program with independent research may enroll for the M.T.S. Project (5003—3 hours credit), which shall be counted as an elective. This research will eventuate in a substantial paper and be directed by a faculty member in the student's area of concentration or one whose interests are central to the student's comprehensive focus.

A field education unit may be taken as an elective after a student's first year. Field education provides an opportunity to contribute to the student's theological education, professional competence, and personal growth, through selected supervised learning experiences. The program is designed to complement the academic program by involving students in specific off-campus settings in which their theological capabilities and professional development can be enhanced. Permission of the Field Education staff is required, and a lead time of four to six months is necessary for the development of any field education placement.

Dual Degree Programs

Theological study often finds itself closely allied with other kinds of professional education. With this in mind, the Divinity School encourages students to engage in curricula leading to two academic degrees, one in theological studies and another in a related field. A number of such dual-degree programs exist at Vanderbilt for both M.T.S. and M.Div. candidates. In recent years, Divinity students have pursued M.T.S. or M.Div. programs in concert with the Doctor of Medicine program at Vanderbilt University School of Medicine and with the Doctor of Jurisprudence program at Vanderbilt University School of Law.

The Office of the Associate Dean works with students interested in dual-degree programs. Although dual-degree programs tend to differ from one another, several issues remain consistent from one program to another. Admission to dual-degree programs requires admission to both schools; financial aid will be awarded and administered by each school separately; the Divinity School (and in most cases the other school involved in the dual-degree program) will transfer some academic work taken at the partner school into the M.T.S. or M.Div. curriculum, thus helping to reduce the time necessary to complete both degrees.

Details about the Divinity and Law program follow. Inquiries about this and other dual-degree programs should be directed to the Director of Admissions, The Divinity School, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee 37240.

Divinity and Law

Dual programs leading to the Master of Divinity (M.Div.) or the Master of Theological Studies (M.T.S.) and the J.D. degrees are available to qualified students through the Divinity School and the Vanderbilt School of Law.

Students enrolled in either of the following law/divinity programs are required each spring semester during their time at Vanderbilt to be enrolled in a course designed especially for such students. See page 79 for details.

The M.Div.-J.D. Program

Students shall meet the requirements for the M.Div. and J.D. degrees as established by the faculties of the two schools. As part of their studies, which take approximately five years, students will have opportunity to select courses dealing with the interrelationships between law and religion. They will normally move through the program as follows:

First Two Years

One full year (two semesters) of Divinity School course work. Total hours earned: 28. A normal load in the Divinity School is 28 hours per year.

One year (two semesters) of Law School course work. Total hours earned: 30. This is a normal load for students in the first year of legal studies.

The student may elect to take his or her first year in either law or divinity. There is no preferred sequence on the part of the two schools.

Remaining Years: Law School

- 1. A total of 58 more hours of Law School course credit arranged so that the student acquires at least 10 hours of law credit during each of four semesters or the equivalent. It is not required that students take these four semesters in sequence, though it is likely that most students will proceed in that way.
- 2. For purposes of the above paragraph, Law School credit shall include up to 12 hours of Divinity School courses, which must be approved by the student's Law School faculty adviser.

3. The student may not take the Special Projects or non-law electives as part of the Law School program.

4. The student may fulfill the Law School third-year writing requirement by a research project that is part of the 12 hours of Divinity School courses accepted for Law School credit, if the project is approved for this purpose by the Law School.

Remaining Years: Divinity School

- 1. A total of 56 more hours of Divinity School credit.
- 2. For purposes of the above paragraph, Divinity School credit shall include up to 12 credit hours of Law School work, which must be approved by the student's Divinity School faculty adviser.

The M.T.S.-J.D. Program

Students in this program follow the above pattern; the first two years are the same, but in the third and fourth years they are enrolled in the Divinity School for one semester and the Law School for three semesters for their remaining work. The Law School will accept up to 12 hours of Divinity School courses for the J.D. degree, and the Divinity School will accept up to 6 hours of Law School courses for the M.T.S. degree. This plan could, therefore, enable a student to earn both degrees in four years.

Certificate Programs

The Carpenter Program in Religion, Gender, and Sexuality

Established in 1995 with a $2.5 million grant by the E. Rhodes and Leona B. Carpenter Foundation, the Carpenter Program is designed to foster conversation about religion, gender, and sexuality. The program is not partisan in theological outlook or political orientation, nor is it focused solely on the academic community. Rather, the Program seeks to encourage communication within and across religious affiliations, ideological bases, and cultural contexts.

The Carpenter Program sponsors a certificate program that allows Divinity students to develop an interdisciplinary and individually designed course of study that addresses the complex issues of religion, gender, and sexuality. Students who wish to enter the certificate program must have at least a 3.0 cumulative GPA and the support of their faculty adviser. Application may be made at any time following the first semester of study.

The certificate program requires 18 credit hours of work taken in the several disciplinary fields represented in the school and University. Twelve of these hours must be chosen from an approved list of "Religion, Gender, and Sexuality" core courses that is published annually. (Six of these hours, with the permission of the student's adviser, may be pursued as reading courses under the title "Readings in Religion, Gender, and Sexuality.") The remaining 6 hours may be chosen from the approved list or may be drawn from other relevant course offerings. To avoid giving homosexuality only cursory attention, students must address this topic in at least 3 of the required 18 hours of work. In addition, the certificate program requires students to take 3 hours of work in an area of community service or fieldbased education. The certificate program culminates in the preparation of a final project, to be presented and defended in an open forum. Divinity students enrolled in the certificate program are encouraged to think imaginatively about ways they might combine requirements of their degree programs with elements of the certificate program. The M.Div. Senior Project, the M.T.S. Project, or any of several Field Education placements may be used in conjunction with the certificate program.

The student, his or her adviser, the coordinator of the Carpenter Program, and, when appropriate, representatives of the Field Education Office, will plan the course of studies for the certificate. Students and faculty involved in the certificate program will meet during each spring semester to hear student reports on their community work. Students will submit a brief written description of their work for inclusion in the Carpenter Program annual reports and on the Carpenter Web site. More detailed information about the certificate program can be obtained by writing to the Carpenter Program office.

The Kelly Miller Smith Institute Certificate Program in Black Church Studies

In the fall of 1998, the Divinity School, through the Kelly Miller Smith Institute, inaugurated the certificate progam in Black Church Studies. This program is designed to assist pastors, laity, and Divinity School students in broadening their understanding of ministry in the black church. The program is open to persons not formally enrolled in degree programs in the Divinity School. Contact the Kelly Miller Smith Institute for details.

Divinity students who wish to obtain the certificate must have at least a 3.0 cumulative GPA (4.0 scale) on work in the Divinity School and the approval of their faculty adviser. Applications for admission may be made at any time following the first semester of study in the Divinity School.

The program requires the completion of 18 hours of course work, selected from an approved list of courses. In addition, students must complete a final project that is to be presented in open forum. Contact the Kelly Miller Smith Institute for specifics of the curriculum.

The M.A. and Ph.D. Degrees

Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy degrees are offered by the Department of Religion in the Graduate School. Applicants to these programs should have previous work in religious or theological studies. Inquiries for admission should be addressed to the Chair of the Graduate Department of Religion, Vanderbilt University, Divinity School, Nashville, Tennessee 37240. Programs of study are available in the following areas: Hebrew Bible, New Testament, historical studies, theological studies, ethics, religion and personality, history and critical theories of religion, and homiletics and liturgics (M.A. only at present). Interdisciplinary studies, both within religion and in relation to other departments of the University, are encouraged. The study of religion is pursued both as a critical, humanistic discipline, employing a variety of methodological perspectives, and as a theological discipline, interpreting the biblical religions and their historical, theological, and ethical heritage.

The present student body includes approximately fifteen M.A. students and one hundred Ph.D. students in residence. A close relationship is maintained with the Divinity School. Students are actively involved in governance of the department, and various occasions exist for student-faculty dialogue, including a series of graduate colloquia.

The Bettye R. Ford Graduate Student Service Award is presented annually to a graduate student who has served the Graduate Department of Religion with distinction.

Master of Arts Degree

The M.A. program is designed to enable students to explore personal interests or vocational options, to acquire a background for teaching at the secondary school level, and/or to attain a foundation for doctoral studies. A thesis is required.

Language Requirements

All M.A. candidates must demonstrate reading competence in one foreign language, ancient or modern, as may be required in the program or area of concentration. The student may satisfy this requirement by passing the Graduate Student Foreign Language Test with a score of 450 or better or by presenting an acceptable record of at least 12 hours (or its equivalent) in a language. Candidates specializing in Hebrew Bible or New Testament are expected to work with the original texts in Hebrew or Greek. Students designating Greek or Hebrew as the foreign language may not count introductory courses in these languages toward the requisite 24 hours for the degree.

Joint J.D.-M.A. Program.

Students who have been admitted to both the Law School and the Graduate School may work toward the J.D. and the M.A. in religion concurrently. Six hours of religion credits will be accepted toward the J.D. degree, and 6 hours of law credits will be accepted toward the M.A. in religion. The joint program normally takes four years. For further information, write to the chair of the Graduate Department of Religion.

Doctor of Philosophy Degree

Ph.D. programs are available in the following areas of major concentration: Hebrew Bible, New Testament, historical studies, theological studies, ethics, religion and personality, and history and critical theories of religion. Currently, a Ph.D. minor and an M.A. major in homiletics and liturgics are available.

Candidates for the Ph.D. degree must demonstrate a reading knowledge of (A) a modern language of research (normally French, German, Spanish, or Modern Hebrew); (B) one of the following: (1) another modern language relevant to the field of study, (2) a biblical or other relevant ancient language, (3) the student's native language if not English, or (4) a research method such as statistics when appropriate. Each of the areas of major concentration specifies which of the options under (B) are acceptable for its students. The requirement in modern languages may be satisfied by passing the Graduate Student Foreign Language Test with scores of 550 or better or by passing departmental reading examinations. Special arrangements are made for demonstrating competence in other languages. Beyond this department-wide requirement, in biblical studies a knowledge of Hebrew and Greek is required, and in some areas of historical studies a knowledge of Latin or Greek is required. Students should be prepared to learn such other languages, ancient and modern, as may appear requisite for scholarly interests; they should check with their area directors concerning specific requirements for each program.

Academic Regulations

NDIDATES for a degree offered by Vanderbilt Divinity School must have completed satisfactorily all requirements of the curriculum, with the final year of study in residence at the Divinity School; must have passed all prescribed examinations; and must be free of indebtedness to the University.

Advisory System

Each incoming student is assigned a faculty adviser who counsels the student in the planning of the course of study, assists in evaluation of offcampus assignments, and serves as special guide as the student reaches decisions involving academic plans and vocational aims. In the M.Div. program, entering students are assigned to a first-year adviser with whom they meet to discuss the initial issues—personal, academic, and vocational—of their theological education. M.Div. students are assigned to a program adviser during their second and third years of study. The program adviser guides student work on the Program Focus and Senior Seminar components of the M.Div. curriculum. Similarly, M.T.S. students meet with a general academic adviser during their first year of study. After selecting an area of concentration or a comprehensive focus, M.T.S. students are assigned to a faculty member working in the academic area of the concentration or comprehensive focus. In addition, students are advised on denominational matters by representatives of the black churches, the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), the Episcopal Church, the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, the Presbyterian Church (USA), the United Church of Christ, and the United Methodist Church.

The Honor System

Vanderbilt students are bound by the Honor System inaugurated in 1875 when the University opened its doors. Fundamental responsibility for the preservation of the system inevitably falls on the individual student. It is assumed that students will demand of themselves and their fellow students complete respect for the Honor System. All work submitted as a part of course requirements is presumed to be the product of the student submitting it unless credit is given by the student in the manner prescribed by the course instructor. Cheating, plagiarizing, or otherwise falsifying results of study are specifically prohibited under the Honor System. The system applies not only to examinations but also to written work and computer programs submitted to instructors. The student, by registration, acknowledges the authority of the Divinity School Honor Council.

The University's Graduate Student Conduct Council has original jurisdiction in all cases of non-academic misconduct involving graduate and professional students.

Students are expected to become familiar with the Student Handbook, available at the time of registration, which contains the constitution and bylaws of the Honor Council and sections on the Graduate Student Conduct Council, Appellate Review Board, and related regulations.

Grading

All work is graded by letters, interpreted as follows:

A:	excellent quality	CR:	Credit
B:	good level of accomplishment	NC:	No Credit
C:	marginal	P:	Pass
D:	work that is passing but poor	H:	Honors
F:	failing	I:	Incomplete
	· ·	W:	Withdrawal

Letter grades are assigned quality points as follows:

A	= 4.0	В-	= 2.7	D+	= 1.3
A-	= 3.7	C+	= 2.3	D	= 1.0
B+	= 3.3	C	= 2.0	D-	= 0.7
В	= 3.0	C-	= 1.7	F	= 0.0

All students must maintain satisfactory grade point averages. The student's grade point average is the ratio of quality points earned to the number of quality hours earned. Divinity School students must have a 2.5 cumulative grade point average in order to graduate from their program of study. Continuing students will be placed on Academic Probation:

- 1. if their cumulative grade point average falls below a 2.5, or
- 2. if their semester grade point average falls below a 2.0, or
- 3. if they have more than two grades of incomplete on their academic record.

Students on Academic Probation will be permitted to register for no more than 9 semester hours. Students on Academic Probation have one semester to raise their cumulative grade point average to a minimum of 2.5. Failure to do so will result in their dismissal from the Divinity School. The Academic Programs Committee will review the cases of students who are not making satisfactory progress toward their degree. Decisions of the Academic Programs Committee regarding dismissal and conditions governing continuation will be communicated to students by the Associate Dean.

Pass/Fail Options

M.Div. students may take two 3-hour courses on a pass/fail basis. One of these may be taken when a student has earned at least 28 hours, and the other after 54 hours have been earned. Instructors shall state the conditions on which the grade Pass will be earned. These options are not available for any course fulfilling Foundation Curriculum requirements. The decision to take a course on the pass/fail basis must be made by the tenth day of the semester and is irrevocable. The Divinity School registrar will not record standard letter grades for any course a student has elected to take on the pass/fail basis.

Incomplete

Students who are unable for good cause to complete course requirements by the end of the semester may apply for the grade I (incomplete). A "Request for Incomplete" form is available in the registrar's office. Students must complete the form, have it signed by relevant faculty members, and submit it to the registrar's office by the last day of classes. Requests submitted after this date will not be granted. Students must finish the academic requirements for incomplete courses in a timely manner. All course work for an incomplete taken in the fall semester must be submitted by Friday of the sixth week of classes in the following spring semester. All course work for an incomplete taken in the spring semester must be submitted by Friday of the sixth week following Vanderbilt's commencement exercises. The exact dates of these deadlines will be published each year in the Divinity Catalog and will appear on the "Request for Incomplete" form. Work submitted to fulfill requirements for an Incomplete course must be submitted directly to the Registrar, who will pass it along to the instructor for final evaluation. Failure to meet the deadlines noted above will result in the incomplete being converted to a permanent incomplete. Although permanent incompletes do appear on the student's transcript, they carry neither quality points nor earned hours. Students with more than two unresolved incompletes (i.e., not permanent incompletes) on their record will be placed on Academic Probation (see details in Academic Probation section, above).

Leave of Absence

Students who are temporarily unable to continue their course of study or who, for personal reasons, need to withdraw from school temporarily, must request a leave of absence from the Divinity School. The request must be made in writing and addressed to the associate dean. Leaves are granted for one semester or one academic year. Students placed on leave of absence are required to keep the associate dean informed of their plans to return to school. Students on leave who wish to return must inform the associate dean of their plans no later than 1 August for the fall semester or 1 December for the spring semester. The associate dean, at the request of the student and, if necessary, in consultation with the Academic Programs Committee, may extend a leave of absence. Students who discontinue class attendance without a leave of absence, students who fail to register for a subsequent semester's work without a leave of absence, and students on leave of absence who fail to return to the Divinity School following the period of approved leave without requesting and receiving an extension will be dismissed from the Divinity School. In order to return to their course of study, such students must reapply for admission and financial aid.

Withdrawal from a Course

The symbol W (withdrawal) is assigned in lieu of a grade when a student doing satisfactory work formally withdraws from a class before the end of the semester, using a form obtained from the registrar's office. The grade W is not included in the calculation of the grade point average. Students receiving a scholarship from the Divinity School will have their scholarship adjusted accordingly.

Commencement

The University holds its annual Commencement ceremony following the spring semester. Degree candidates must have completed successfully all curriculum requirements and have passed all prescribed examinations by the published deadlines to be allowed to participate in the ceremony. A student completing degree requirements in the summer or fall semester will be invited to participate in Commencement the following May; however, the semester in which the degree was actually earned will be the one recorded on the diploma and the student's permanent record. Students unable to participate in the graduation ceremony will receive their diplomas by mail.

Admission

ADMISSION requirements for each academic program are listed below.

Admission to the M.Div. and M.T.S. Programs

Applicants must hold the baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university. They are expected to have maintained a college academic average of 2.9 or better. Applications and supporting documents must be completed and on file with the Office of Admissions by 1 August for the fall semester and by 1 December for the spring semester. Deadlines for international students are outlined on page 60.

The prospective student may secure application papers from the admissions office. The completed file shall include the following:

- 1. Application for admission.
- 2. Official transcripts of all the student's previous college, seminary, and graduate school work, along with evidence of graduation with the baccalaureate degree.
- 3. Three letters of recommendation. Each letter must be accompanied by a completed reference form, which is included in the application materials.
- 4. A nonrefundable application fee of $25 must accompany the application for admission. Make checks payable to Vanderbilt University.
- 5. Once a student has been admitted to the Divinity School, a $50 non-refundable deposit is required to secure the student's place in the entering class. After students have matriculated to the Divinity School, their deposit is credited to their student account.

A personal conference with a representative of the Divinity School may be required. The Divinity School reserves the right to deny admission to applicants who, in the judgment of the Admission Committee, have not demonstrated sufficient academic preparation, vocational maturity, personal stability, or clarity of purpose in pursuit of a particular program of study. Decisions of the Admission Committee are final and may not be appealed.

Pre-Theological School Studies

Before entering a theological school students should avail themselves in college or university of the cultural and intellectual foundations essential to an effective theological education. A well-balanced preparation will include the following: English language and literature

History: European, American, and non-Western

Philosophy, particularly its history and methods

Natural sciences, both physical and life sciences

Social sciences, including psychology, sociology, and anthropology

Fine arts and music

Biblical and modern languages

Religion in the Christian, Jewish, Near Eastern, and Far Eastern traditions

In addition, applicants to the Divinity School are expected to have demonstrated the capacity to think critically, to speak and write clearly, and to appreciate subtleties of language—both oral and written.

Special Students

Students who do not intend to enroll in a degree program may register for a limited number of courses and receive academic credit if admitted as special students. Special student applicants must complete the special student application, available in the Admissions Office and provide the required supporting documentation listed on the application. A non-refundable $25 application fee is required to process a special student application. Applications and supporting documents must be completed and on file in the Admissions Office by 1 August for the fall semester and by 1 December for the spring semester. Special students are not eligible for financial aid.

Transfer Students

The prospective transfer student (a student who began his or her graduate theological education at a school other than Vanderbilt Divinity School) shall apply for admission in the normal manner and shall, additionally, write a letter stating the reasons for transferring and provide a letter of honorable dismissal from the president or dean of the theological school from which transfer is being made. Transfer credit will only be given for courses in which the student earned a grade of C or higher. Transfer credit will not be awarded until a student has demonstrated for at least one semester the ability to do satisfactory work in the Divinity School. Transfer credit is not normally given for courses taken more than five years before entrance into the Divinity School or for courses taken at institutions not accredited by the Association of Theological Schools. However, persons with such credits who have utilized this education in their continuing work or who can make a case for its contribution to their future theological study may submit a petition to the Associate Dean for consideration of the merits of the proposal. On occasion, students already enrolled in the Divinity School may elect to study for a semester at another theological institution. Such work may be counted as transfer credit upon approval by the Office of the Associate Dean. Transfer of credit policies for specific degree programs are as follows:

M.T.S. A maximum of 12 semester hours from other approved theological schools or 6 hours of other graduate study that is coherent with the student's program may be transferred to the M.T.S. program. Students may transfer work from both approved theological schools and from appropriate graduate study to the M.T.S. program, but the total number of hours applied toward the M.T.S. degree may not exceed 12 semester hours.

M.Div. A maximum of 27 semester hours from other approved theological schools or 12 hours of other graduate study that is coherent with the student's program may be transferred to the M.Div. program. Students may transfer work from both approved theological schools and from appropriate graduate study to the M.Div. program, but the total number of hours applied toward the M.Div. degree may not exceed 27 semester hours.

Transfer students making application to the Divinity School should direct specific questions regarding transfer of credit to the Director of Admissions and Student Services. Students presently enrolled at the school should direct such questions to the Office of the Associate Dean.

International Students

Vanderbilt has a large international community representing more than ninety countries. The University welcomes the diversity international students bring to the campus and encourages academic and social interaction at all levels.

English Language Proficiency. Proficiency in written and oral English is required for enrollment in an academic program. Applicants whose native language is not English must present the results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) with the application. A minimum score of 600 on the paper TOEFL test or a minimum score of 250 on the computer-based TOEFL test is required for admission to the Divinity School. The International TOEFL is administered at test centers throughout the world at different times during the year. Inquiries and requests for application forms should be addressed to TOEFL, Box 6155, Princeton, New Jersey 08541-6155, U.S.A. You may access information regarding the TOEFL exam, including registration and sample tests, at http://www.toefl.org.

English Instruction. The Divinity School reserves the right to require international students who experience difficulty in the use of written or spoken English to enroll in an English language proficiency program offered by the University. In addition, the Divinity School may require such students to withdraw from classes at the school until such time as their English skills improve. The decision to require a student to enroll in an English language proficiency program or to withdraw from or re-enter Divinity School courses will be made by the Associate Dean in consultation with the student, his or her academic adviser, and other appropriate faculty members. For information about Vanderbilt's English for Internationals program, write to EFI, Box 510 Peabody, Nashville, Tennessee 37203, U.S.A.

Financial Resources. To meet requirements for entry into the United States for study, applicants must demonstrate that they have sufficient financial resources to meet the expected costs of their educational program. Applicants must provide documentary evidence of their financial resources before visa documents can be issued.

United States laws and regulations restrict the opportunity for international students to be employed. Students may be allowed to work off campus only under special circumstances. Many spouses and dependents of international students are not allowed to be employed while in the United States.

Health and Accident Insurance. International students, whether attending the University full time or part time, and their dependents residing in the United States are required to purchase the University's international student health and accident insurance, unless in the judgment of the University adequate coverage is provided from some other source. Information concerning the limits, exclusions, and benefits of this insurance coverage may be obtained from Student Health Services.

Application Deadline. International applicants to the Divinity School must complete their applications by 1 June for fall semester enrollment and by 1 November for spring semester enrollment.

Information. Assistance in non-academic matters before and during the international student's stay at Vanderbilt is provided by International Student and Scholar Services, Box 351568 Station B, Nashville, Tennessee 37235-1568, U.S.A.; www.vanderbilt.edu/iss.

Transient Students

Students from other theological schools may be enrolled at Vanderbilt Divinity School for a term of course work with credit transferred to the other school. An application form for admission to Vanderbilt and a letter from the dean of the other theological school attesting to the student's good standing will be required.

Auditors

Regularly enrolled students may wish to take a course without receiving credit for it. There is no charge to such students unless they wish to have a notation of the audit made on their transcripts. The fee for such service is $10 per course.

Persons who are not enrolled as degree candidates but who are college graduates may sign as auditors in courses with consent of the instructor involved. The fee is $75 per course.

Admission to Dual Degree Programs

Students interested in the Law/Divinity program should request a joint Law/Divinity application form and submit it to the Divinity School. This application will be reviewed in both schools, and each will notify the applicant separately regarding the decision on admission. Applications should be submitted by 1 February and all required materials should be on file by 15 February to be considered for fall admission. Students interested in other dual degree programs (e.g., Divinity and Public Policy, Divinity and Medicine) should consult with the director of admissions of the Divinity School, who can advise applicants about admission procedures specific to these programs.

Tuition and Financial Aid

The student will maintain registration in only one school each semester and will pay all tuition fees to that school for work taken, even though some of that work may be in the other school. Assume, for example, that in a given semester the student is enrolled in the Divinity School carrying 15 semester hours. Six hours of that credit are for work in the Law School; the remaining 9 hours are for work in the Divinity School. The student will register for all of that credit through the Divinity School and pay tuition for the total amount through the Divinity School and at Divinity School rates.

Financial aid will be handled by each school separately. Aid is available from the school in which the student is registered. Students interested in financial aid should write to each school for further information.

Financial Information

STUDENTS enrolled in the M.Div. and M.T.S. programs are charged tuition at the rate of $622 per credit hour in 2000/2001.

Rates for tuition and fees are set annually by the Board of Trust and are subject to review and change without further notice.

Special registration is to be interpreted as registering at times other than the scheduled dates in the catalog.

Students enrolled for a minimum of 9 hours are allowed to audit other courses in the Divinity School with consent of the instructor. A fee of $10 is charged if the audit is recorded on the student's transcript.

Students who withdraw from the University for any reason after the beginning of a term may be entitled to a partial refund in accordance with a schedule available in the Office of the Divinity Registrar.

Other Fees (2000/2001)

Application	$ 25
Admission deposit fee	50
Withdrawal from course after change period	10
Late registration	30
Recorded audit (degree candidate)	10
Audit, per course (non-candidate)	75
Student health insurance (estimate)	783
Student activities (Divinity School)	60
Student activities (Sarratt and University programs) and student recreation fee (estimate)	245

Payment of Tuition and Fees

Tuition, fees, and all other University charges incurred prior to or at registration are due and payable by August 22 for the fall semester and January 3 for the spring semester. All charges incurred after classes begin are due and payable in full by the last day of the month in which they are billed to the student. If payment is not made within that time, cancellation of V-Net (long distance telephone) access for campus residents may result and additional charges to campus dining or flexible-spending accounts may be prohibited.

Students/guarantors will be responsible for payment of all costs, including reasonable attorney fees and collection agency fees, incurred by the University in collecting monies owed to the University. The University will assess a $20 fee for any check returned by the bank and reserves the right to invoke the laws of the State of Tennessee governing bad checks.

Refunds of Tuition and Dormitory Charges

University policy for the refund of tuition and dormitory charges provides a percentage refund based on the time of withdrawal. Students who withdraw officially or who are dismissed from the University for any reason may be entitled to a partial refund in accordance with the established schedule shown below. Fees are not refundable.

Fall 2000 Withdrawal/Refund Schedule

Students receiving a scholarship from the Divinity School will have their stipends adjusted accordingly.

Tuition Payment Programs

Tuition payment programs are available through Tuition Management Systems (TMS). Pamphlets describing these plans are available on request from the Office of Student Accounts, Box 1671 Station B, Nashville, TN 38235, or the Office of Student Financial Aid, 2309 West End Avenue, Nashville, TN 37203.

Late Payment of Fees

All charges not paid by the specified due dates will be assessed a late payment fee each month of $1.50 on each $100 owed.

Financial Clearance

Current charges can be deferred if a Student Account Agreement is on file in the Office of Student Accounts (the Office of Student Accounts may refuse to allow a deferment if in its judgment the deferment is unwarranted). However, a late payment fee will be accessed each month until the balance is paid. All amounts deferred are due no later than November 30 for the fall semester, April 30 for the spring semester, and July 31 for the May and summer sessions.

No transcript (official or unofficial) will be issued for a student who has an outstanding or deferred balance. Diplomas of graduating seniors will be withheld until all bills are paid.

Financial Aid

The Divinity School and Vanderbilt University award financial aid based on both merit and need. Persons must be admitted to a degree program before being considered for financial aid. The financial aid award package includes scholarships, grants-in-aid, federally-funded graduate student loans, and college work-study employment. In addition, the Divinity School's Office of Admissions and Student Services can provide information and advice about funding from outside sources, including denominational loan and scholarship programs. Application for Divinity School and University based aid is made by completing forms available in January of the year for which the student intends to enroll.

Grants-in-Aid

Grants varying in value may be awarded to students registered for 6 or more credit hours per semester while enrolled in the M.Div. or M.T.S. degree programs. For entering students such awards are made on the basis of need. Awards are guaranteed for the entire length of the program, but not for hours taken beyond requirements for the degree. Students receiving grants will pay the regular fees. The Divinity School will not award grants for courses the student must repeat to remove grades of Permanent Incomplete, W (withdrawal), or F.

Application forms for need-based aid should be directed to the appropriate addresses as instructed by the Office of Admissions and Student Services.

Scholarships

Scholarships are awarded on the basis of merit, as demonstrated by the materials received in support of an application for admission. Scholarships, varying in value, are guaranteed for the entire length of the degree program if the holder is registered for a minimum of 6 or more credit hours per semester. Other restrictions may apply, as stated in the conditions of the award. Scholarship students are expected to maintain a satisfactory grade level and may be expected occasionally to perform tasks related to the academic program and community life of the Divinity School. Prospective students compete for the named full-tuition scholarship funds if they have been admitted by February 1 of the year for which they intend to enroll.

BRANDON HONOR SCHOLARSHIPS are awarded annually on a competitive basis to applicants with superior academic records and promise of unusual professional achievement. Each award covers full tuition for a normal academic load, and is renewable for up to 84 hours of credit (M.Div.) or 51 hours of credit (M.T.S.) if the holder maintains an average of 3.4 or better. Persons who have been admitted by 1 February will be considered.

THE CARPENTER SCHOLARSHIPS. Established in 1993, the Carpenter Scholarships are awarded on a competitive basis for academic achievement and a demonstrated interest in and active commitment to issues of social justice and ministry. The scholarships offer full tuition for the Master of Divinity or the Master of Theological Studies program, plus a stipend. Persons who have been admitted by 1 February will be considered. The award is renewable for up to 84 hours of credit (M.Div.) or 51 hours of credit (M.T.S.) if the holder maintains an average of 3.4 or better.

THE KELLY MILLER SMITH SCHOLARSHIP for ministry in the Black church was established by the faculty of the Divinity School in memory of their colleague Kelly Miller Smith. Kelly Miller Smith served for thirty years as pastor of Nashville's First Baptist Church Capitol Hill and for fifteen years as Assistant Dean of Vanderbilt Divinity School. The full tuition scholarship is awarded to an entering candidate for the Master of Divinity degree on the basis of academic achievement and professional promise. Persons who have been admitted by 1 February will be considered. The award is renewable for up to 84 hours of credit if the holder maintains an average of 3.4 or better.

THE LEGACY SCHOLARSHIP is awarded to an outstanding entering M.Div. or M.T.S. student on the basis of recommendation by an alumnus/a of Vanderbilt Divinity School, the Graduate Department of Religion, or the Oberlin Graduate School of Theology. Recommendation forms are available from the Admissions Office of the Divinity School. Deadline for nomination is 1 January and the nominee must complete the admission process by 1 February. Each award covers full tuition for a normal academic load, and is renewable for up to 84 hours of credit (M.Div.) or 51 hours of credit (M.T.S.) if the holder maintains an average of 3.4 or better.

THE HAROLD S. VANDERBILT (HSV) SCHOLARSHIP was established in the Divinity School by the Board of Trust to memorialize Harold S. Vanderbilt, generous benefactor of the University. The tuition scholarship is awarded to an entering M.Div. or M.T.S. student. The award is renewable for up to 84 hours of credit (M.Div.) over a three-year period or 51 hours of credit (M.T.S.) over a two-year period if the holder maintains an average of 3.4 or better. The student must demonstrate qualities of lively intellect, sound scholarship, tenacity of purpose, versatility, and a commitment to excellence in worthwhile endeavor. Persons who have been admitted by 1 February will be considered.

Special Funds

The following special school funds, none of which require special application, are also used to support students at the Divinity School.

THE JOHN KEITH BENTON SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Established after Dean Benton's death by gifts from friends of the dean.

THE NATHAN AND MORRIS BRANDON HONOR SCHOLARS FUND. Established in 1980 by Inman Brandon of Atlanta, Georgia, the fund honors Mr. Brandon's father and grandfather, the former having served on the Vanderbilt University Board of Trust for twenty-five years. Income from the Brandon Honor Scholars Fund provides support for exceptional students in the professional program.

THE HARVIE BRANSCOMB FELLOWSHIP. Established in 1991 in honor of the eighth chancellor of Vanderbilt University, this graduate fellowship in social ethics and religion is awarded by the Graduate Department of Religion faculty to the student who demonstrates the most potential for advanced scholarship in religion.

THE WILLIAM JAMES CAMPBELL MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Established in 1979 in memory of Dr. Campbell, who was a professor in Vanderbilt Divinity School, 1931-1949.

THE DISCIPLES ALUMNI ASSOCIATION FUND. Supported by graduates of the Divinity School who are now serving the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), this fund gives preference to members of the Christian Church.

THE DOLLAR GENERAL SCHOLARSHIP. Established in 1988, this scholarship provides tuition support during the academic year for a Divinity student. In addition, the student receives a summer internship in a business environment, designed to complement work in the classroom with an awareness of what members of the student's future congregation might face in the business world.

THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, NASHVILLE, SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Members of First Presbyterian Church in Nashville have established and endowed this scholarship fund to benefit Presbyterian students. Preference is given first to any student preparing for the Christian ministry under the care of First Presbyterian Church, Nashville, and second to any minister of the Middle Tennessee Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church seeking advanced study.

THE FOLKERTH SCHOLARSHIPS. The Folkerth Scholarship Fund began in 1976/77 with two trusts established by J. Holland and Marguerite Folkerth of Birmingham, Alabama. The Folkerths initiated these awards out of the desire to assist in the training of men and women for the parish ministry. Mr. Folkerth is a 1924 graduate of Vanderbilt's College of Arts and Science.

THE JACK AND SHIRLEY FORSTMAN SCHOLARSHIP. Established in 1989 by friends, colleagues, alumni/ae, and family of the Forstmans in honor of ten years of leadership as dean of the Divinity School.

THE EUNICE BATEY GOODALL SCHOLARSHIPS. Eunice Batey Goodall grew up in Birmingham, Alabama, was active in the First Christian Church of that city, and attended Vanderbilt Divinity School. Her ministry ended in 1968 when she was killed in a plane crash while serving as a Disciples missionary in the Congo (later Zaire). Out of deep appreciation for her life, friends and relatives established in 1977 a memorial scholarship bearing her name. The income from the $25,000 in this fund is used to provide scholarship assistance for Disciples of Christ students attending Vanderbilt Divinity School.

THE GREGORY-PATTERSON SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Endowed by Frances G. Patterson in memory of her father and her husband, the income from this fund is awarded annually to a male student from the state of Mississippi intending to prepare for ordination to the Christian ministry. In the absence of a qualified student from Mississippi, the scholarship may be given without respect to geographical origin.

THE WALTER HARRELSON SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Established in 1991 by the family, colleagues, and friends of Walter Harrelson, Distinguished Professor of Hebrew Bible, Emeritus, and by alumni/ae of the Divinity School on the occasion of his "first retirement."

THE HAUER MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Originally established as a memorial to Christian Ewing Hauer, Sr., by his wife, Anna Lee Cotten Hauer; his two sons, Vanderbilt Divinity School alumni Dr. Christian Ewing Hauer, Jr., and the Reverend Billy J. T. Hauer; and his mother, Mrs. Jean Hauer. Following the death of Mrs. Anna Lee Cotten Hauer, the fund was enlarged as a joint memorial. Preference is given to Presbyterian students.

THE J. R. HYDE FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIPS. The J. R. Hyde Foundation of Memphis, Tennessee, provides honor scholarships annually to persons preparing for the ministry who demonstrate academic ability and who are well-rounded individuals. Candidates eligible are current students who have completed one semester of study at the Divinity School.

THE GERTRUDE JACOB SCHOLARSHIP. Initiated in 1976 by Oberlin Alumni to honor Gertrude Jacob, long-time registrar of the Graduate School of Theology of Oberlin College, this award is made annually to an outstanding student who exemplifies the concern for humanity so evident in the life of Gertrude Jacob.

THE DR. AND MRS. ERNEST VICTOR JONES MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Dr. Ernest V. Jones donated funds establishing this scholarship. Interest from the endowment is awarded annually.

THE JOHN HENRY AND MARY EDNA JORDAN SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Established in 1986 by the Reverend William I. Jordan in memory of his parents, who were long-time members of the First Christian Church, Cottondale, Alabama.

THE KELLEY LEADERSHIP GRANTS. Established in 1993, the Blaine and Sylvia Sanders Kelley Leadership Grants are designed to supplement the awards of qualified, full-tuition scholarship winners in recognition of outstanding academic potential, demonstrated gifts for leadership, and commitment to working for a more just and humane society.

THE JOHN OLIN KNOTT SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Established by Mr. Knott through a bequest of $2,000 to the Divinity School. Income from the principal is available annually to assist students in the Divinity School.

THE LINDENWOOD CHRISTIAN CHURCH SCHOLARSHIP. Established in 1977 by the members of Lindenwood Christian Church in Memphis, Tennessee, to provide support for students who intend to enter the ministry of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). First priority in assigning income from the fund is given to students who are members of Lindenwood Christian Church, then to students of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ).

THE MAGEE CHRISTIAN EDUCATION FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Scholarship grants have been made annually to the School to assist students preparing for church vocations. A formal, institutional application is made annually for the grant. Preference is given to United Methodist students.

THE MARQUAND (MISSOURI) UNITED METHODIST CHURCH SCHOLARSHIP. Endowed in 1984. Recipients of this scholarship will be selected by the University with preference given to students enrolled in the Divinity School or in an undergraduate course of study who are also members of Marquand United Methodist Church or whose parents are members of the church. If no students meet these criteria, the scholarship will be awarded to another student or students enrolled in the Divinity School.

THE WILLIAM DUNCAN AND LESTRA KINNEY EXUM MCARTHUR SCHOLARSHIP. Established by Frank D. McArthur II, B.A. '64, in honor of his parents, William Duncan McArthur and Lestra Kinney Exum McArthur. Income from the endowment benefits Divinity students who show financial need, with special consideration given to United Methodists interested in pastoral care.

THE HERMAN A. NORTON SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Established in 1979 by the Disciples Foundation and friends of Professor Herman A. Norton to recognize his exceptional service to Vanderbilt Divinity School and the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). Dr. Norton served as Drucilla Moore Buffington Professor of Church History and dean of the Disciples Divinity House. Income from the fund is used to support a student preparing for ministry in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ).

THE OBERLIN SCHOLARSHIPS. Established with the merger of the Oberlin Graduate School of Theology and Vanderbilt Divinity School in 1966 by a transfer of endowment funds from Oberlin College.

THE FRANCIS ASBURY PALMER SCHOLARSHIPS. Several scholarships are awarded annually to students in the professional programs. They are underwritten by continuing grants from the Francis Asbury Palmer Fund of New York.

THE PHILLIPS-MOORE SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Endowed by a gift from Mr. Louie M. Phillips as a memorial to his wife and her parents, the Reverend John Wright Moore and Louella Gould Moore. Mrs. Phillips was for many years active in church and civic affairs in Nashville. Her father was a minister of the Congregational Church, and her mother was a teacher at the University of Wyoming.

THE OREON E. SCOTT FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIP. Established in 1981 to assist Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) students to acquire university-based theological education.

THE JAMES HENRY AND EVELYN SUTHERLAND STEVENSON SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Mr. and Mrs. Alec B. Stevenson and their children, Alec B. Stevenson, Jr., and Mrs. Douglas M. Wright, Jr., established this fund in honor of Professor and Mrs. J. H. Stevenson. Professor Stevenson was professor of Semitic studies and of Old Testament in the Vanderbilt Divinity

School from 1893 to 1919. Scholarships from this fund are to be awarded by the Divinity School Scholarship Committee or its successors to qualified students in preparation for the pastoral ministry or for work in the mission fields.

THE ABRAHAM TOM SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Established in 1982 by Mrs. Pearl Tom of San Jose, California, in memory of her husband, who received a B.D. degree in 1948 from the Divinity School and an M.L.S. degree from Peabody College in 1952.

THE WEST END UNITED METHODIST SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Established in 1976 by members of West End United Methodist Church in Nashville. Income from the fund is used to support students preparing for ministry in the United Methodist Church.

THE LORENE SHARP WHITE SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Established in 1984 by a bequest of Lorene Sharp White, M.Div. 1975, first woman ordained by the Presbytery of Middle Tennessee. Gifts from her family and friends have added to the endowment. Preference is given to Presbyterian students.

THE KATHERINE GREER AND GRANVILLE CECIL WOODS MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND. Established by the Very Reverend G. Cecil Woods, Jr., of Alexandria, Virginia, in memory of his parents, who were natives of Shelbyville, Tennessee, and former residents of Nashville. The Woods-Greer Foundation has since made additional contributions. Income from the invested principal of the fund is used to provide scholarships for Divinity School students who demonstrate financial need. First preference is given to students from abroad, particularly from Africa, Asia, and Latin America. Second preference is given to students from rural and mountain areas of Tennessee.

Loan Funds

THE FEDERAL PERKINS LOAN PROGRAM. This federally-funded loan program provides low-interest (5 percent) loans to students on the basis of financial need. Students may borrow a maximum aggregate amount of $30,000 for study toward a professional or graduate degree, including loans borrowed for undergraduate study. Repayment of these loans commences nine months after termination of at least half-time student status. Interest does not accrue during the time the student is in school enrolled on at least a half-time basis, during periods of authorized deferment, or during the nine-month grace period following termination of student status on at least a half-time basis. Application is made by filing a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), College Scholarship Service Financial Aid PROFILE Registration Worksheet and Application, and a Vanderbilt Graduate and Professional Financial Aid Appplication. These forms are available from the Office of Student Financial Aid.

THE ELEANOR HAGGARD DOKKEN LOAN FUND. Established in 1959 by Mr. and Mrs. M. Gerhard Dokken of Scarsdale, New York, the loan fund provides assistance to Divinity students. Mr. and Mrs. Dokken have periodically added to the original contribution and a number of Divinity students have been assisted through this fund. Dokken Loans are repayable at no interest for 90 days or until the end of the semester, whichever comes first. Any balance remaining following the grace period will be charged to the borrower's student account and interest charges will pertain.

THE VANDERBILT AID SOCIETY LOAN FUND. Funded by yearly contributions by members of the Vanderbilt Aid Society, making available each year new loans of about $40,000. These loans are repayable at 7 percent interest over a six-year period after a borrower's departure from the University. Interest does not accrue while the borrower is enrolled at Vanderbilt.

VANDERBILT INSTITUTIONAL LOANS. These loan programs operate as revolving funds, established through the generosity of private donors. The loans are awarded on the basis of financial need to assist students who for one reason or another are not eligible for federally-funded loan programs or to alleviate the shortage of federally-funded student loan programs. Interest is not charged while the borrower is attending Vanderbilt but begins to accrue at an annual rate of 7 percent (subject to change) upon termination of the borrower's student status at Vanderbilt. These loans require the signature of one co-signer and must be repaid within six years after leaving Vanderbilt. The application procedures are the same as for the Perkins Loan.

THE FEDERAL STAFFORD LOAN PROGRAM. Provides loan assistance in the form of subsidized and unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loans. Eligibility for the subsidized Federal Stafford Loan is based on financial need, but the unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan is available regardless of need. (However, students are required to complete the need-based application process before an unsubsidized loan may be awarded.) Federal Stafford Loans are available through banks and other private lenders. A graduate student may borrow up to $18,500 per year ($8,500 subsidized and $10,000 unsubsidized), for an accumulated total of not more than $138,500, including any Federal Stafford Loans borrowed as an undergraduate. The application procedures are the same as for the Federal Perkins Loan. Students will receive a precertified Federal Stafford Loan application from the Vanderbilt Office of Student Financial Aid. Students must mail their completed application to their lender.

Employment Opportunities

The Divinity Library regularly employs student help. The University has a placement service that may be consulted, and the Divinity School through its offices will render all possible assistance to those who seek employment. Students applying for funding through the Federal Work-Study Program must complete the FAFSA, CSS PROFILE Registration Worksheet and Application, and Vanderbilt Graduate and Professional Financial Aid Application.

Honors and Awards

Founder's Medal and Academic Achievement Award

The Divinity School presents academic awards to the graduating students achieving the highest grade point average in each of the master's level programs. The Founder's Medal, signifying first honors, was endowed by Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt as one of his gifts to the University. It is conferred annually upon the graduating student who has attained the highest grade point average in the M.Div. or M.T.S. degree program. The Academic Achievement Award is conferred annually upon the graduating student who has attained the highest grade point average in the other degree program.

Other Prizes and Awards

THE WILLIAM A. NEWCOMB PRIZE, established in 1987 by a graduate of the Divinity School in memory of his grandfather, is presented to the student in the M.Div. graduating class who, in the judgment of the faculty, best represents the idea of minister-theologian and who has received a grade of Honors on his/her Senior Project.

THE UMPHREY LEE DEAN'S AWARD was established by the Class of 1940 in memory of Vanderbilt Divinity School Dean Umphrey Lee (1936-1939). It is presented to the student who, in the judgment of the Dean, exemplifies the broader vision of Vanderbilt Divinity School.

THE FLORENCE CONWELL PRIZE, established by friends as a memorial to Miss Conwell, for many years assistant librarian of the School of Religion, consists of the interest on an endowed sum and is awarded for outstanding work in the area of preaching.

THE ST. JAMES ACADEMY AWARD was established by the academy, Jacob C. Martinson, Jr., president, in 1984. It is presented in recognition of the finest sermon prepared by a member of the senior class.

THE W. KENDRICK GROBEL AWARD is presented to a graduating senior for outstanding achievement in biblical studies.

THE OWEN PRIZE, endowed in 1875 by the Rev. J. D. Owen of Lebanon, Tennessee, is given annually for the most satisfactory work on an assigned subject in biblical studies. The prize is alternated annually for work in Hebrew Bible and in New Testament.

THE LUKE-ACTS PRIZE, established as a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mattill, Saint Joseph, Missouri, by members of their family, is awarded to the student in the professional or graduate program who, in the judgment of the professors of New Testament, writes the most significant paper on some aspect of Luke-Acts.

THE NELLA MAY OVERBY MEMORIAL AWARD FOR FIELD EDUCATION was endowed in 1993 to honor Nella May Overby for her life of community service. Established by her nieces and nephews, the award is presented to a student who has received a grade of Honors in field education and who, in the judgment of the faculty, has enriched the life of a congregation or offered significant service through a community agency.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY AWARD, presented to a student who has made outstanding progress in biblical studies.

THE ELLIOTT F. SHEPARD PRIZE is endowed by the four children of Elliott F. Shepard, namely, Mrs. William Jay Schieffelin, Mrs. Shepard Fabbri, Mrs. D. H. Morris, and Mr. Elliott F. Shepard. The award is a cash prize given each year to that student of the Divinity School who in the judgment of the faculty performs the most satisfactory work in church history.

THE WILBUR F. TILLETT PRIZE, established by friends of Dr. Tillett, consists of the interest on endowed funds and is awarded to that student in the areas of theology and ethics who in the judgment of the professors has done the most outstanding work. The prize is alternated annually between theology and ethics.

THE CHRISTIAN BOARD OF PUBLICATION AWARDS are given each year by the Christian Board of Publication, official publishing agency of the Disciples of Christ, to outstanding students.

Courses of Study

THE course offerings in this catalog are based on a three-year projection prepared by the faculty of the Divinity School. Course descriptions indicate the academic credit a course carries (the number of semester hours is listed in brackets at the end of the description) as well as the academic year during which the course will next be offered. Please note, however, that projected course offerings are tentative and subject to change. Courses listed herein may be discontinued; others may be added to the curriculum. Students should consult the Divinity School section of the official University schedule of courses, available each semester from the Divinity School registrar, for a definitive list of courses offered.

M.T.S. PROJECT COURSE

Foundation Courses

- 2503. The Literature, Religion, and Faith of Ancient Israel. A basic study of the life and thought of ancient Israel. Primary attention is devoted to the literature of the Hebrew Bible, examined in the light of the ancient Near Eastern environment, religious and ethical factors within Israel, and the course of historical events and social change. Throughout, the course intends to open the way for students to identify themes and principles of biblical life and thought that can assist in the pursuit of ministry as a theological task. FALL. [3] Ms. Weems.
- 2511. The Literature, Religion, and Faith of Early Christianity. A selective study of the early Christian writings, showing the main characteristics of early Christianity as compared and contrasted with early Judaism and Hellenistic religions. Themes include religious authority in the early Christian communities, the types of faith and ethics found within the early Christian traditions, and the social and religious situations that occasioned specific writings. SPRING. [3] Ms. Levine.
- 2513. Biblical Criticism: History and Traditions. Introduction to the resources, methods, and practice of biblical interpretation, with exercises on selected texts from the Hebrew Bible and the New Testament. Knowledge of biblical languages is not required. FALL. [3] Staff.
- 2550. Theological Foundations of Pastoral Care. Introduction to the art and discipline of pastoral care, involving study of basic texts in pastoral care in dialogue with pastoral practice and reflection on the student as caregiver. Includes (1) the study as well as practice of various approaches to pastoral care and moral guidance; (2) attention to the ways in which the student develops her/his personhood; (3) consideration of the broader context; and (4) introduction to resources in the social sciences and theology. FALL. [3] Mr. Hummel.
- 2556. Leadership and Ministry. Examines issues related to religious leadership. Looks critically and theologically at readings and cases, encouraging learning and reflection in a collegial style. What is distinctive about ministry as leadership? How do ministers lead with boldness, creativity, wisdom, and faith? SPRING. [3] Mr. Miller-McLemore.
- 2655. Theology Primer. An introduction to theological terms, Christian doctrine, and what theology is. Prerequisite for 2656. SPRING. [1] Staff.
- 2656. Constructive Christian Theology. The constructive development and reformulation of major themes of Christian theology, considered in relation to the theological tradition and contemporary contextual issues. The themes include theological method, faith and revelation, God, human being, sin and evil, and Christ and redemption. Readings in a selection of classical and contemporary texts. Each student will write a credo, a reasoned statement of personal faith, incorporating contextual as well as theological concerns. Normally taken in the fall of the second year. One additional elective course is required in theology either before or after taking 2656. Prerequisite: 2655. FALL. [3] Mr. DeHart.
- 2701. The Formation of the Catholic Tradition. The expansion of Christianity, the development of doctrine, relationships with the Roman Empire, development of church institutions, and changing modes of Christian life from the second century into the Middle Ages, with emphasis on the periods and themes that are formative of the classical doctrines and institutional patterns. Major purpose of the course is to establish the background for the division of the Western church and the subsequent development of the Roman Catholic and Protestant churches. FALL. [3] Mr. Burns.
- 2703. Christianity in the Reformation Era. The setting of the Reformation (c. 1500-1648) and its development, together with consideration of some of the significant ecclesiastical, theological, and historical issues of the period. Attention to backgrounds and causes; examination of major individuals and ecclesiastical patterns. The aim of the course is to help students understand and interpret the events, become familiar with some of the major theological documents, and reflect upon questions of continuing historical interest that have come out of the Reformation. [3] Mr. Johnson. (Offered spring 2002)

- 2704. Modern European Christianity. Institutional and intellectual developments in European Christianity between the mid-seventeenth and the twentieth centuries, providing an introduction to the major personalities and movements of this period. Some attention is also given to political, social, cultural, and philosophical developments that influenced Christian existence during this time. SPRING. [3] Mr. Johnson.
- 2750. The History of Religion in America. An introduction to the history of the religions in America beginning with colonial religious experiments in the New World. The course examines American church history, as well as the influence of non-Christian religions in American culture. FALL. [3] Ms. Flake.
- 2758. Ethics in Theological Perspective. Introduction to theological ethics in the Western tradition. Examination of central themes (Morality, Moral Agency, Deliberation, and Moral Discernment) that define Ethics as a discipline. Introduction to types of moral arguments from Teleological, Deontological, and Utilitarian perspectives. Focus on philosophical and theological figures and types of theological ethics that have had a sustaining influence on Christian ethics in the West. Prerequisite: three courses from the Foundation Curriculum. SPRING. [3] Mr. Anderson.
- 2759. Theology of Proclamation and Worship. For centuries, Christian communities have given praise and proclaimed the Gospel. The course reflects on the phenomena of public worship and forms of speaking the Gospel. Four areas of concern are explored: theological issues in Christian worship; theological issues in the sacraments; the hermeneutic problem as a problem for preaching; and theological understandings of proclamation. FALL. [3] Ms. Bond.
- 2775. Minister as Theological Educator. An examination of the ministry of Christian education through the role of the minister as theological educator in the parish. Attention is given to contemporary issues that distinctively shape the interplay of theological content, teaching method, and community life and mission and to the responsibilities of the minister as teacher in the parish. Prerequisite: three courses from the Foundation Curriculum. [3] Mr. Lewis. (Offered spring 2002)

Field Education

FIELD EDUCATION represents a unique model of learning in which the student engages in the practice of ministry as well as theological reflection upon that practice. Placements are developed in consultation with Field Education staff members prior to registration. Placement development is begun in the fall for summer placements and for fall and spring placements in the next academic year.

Supervised Ministry and Seminar (5006) is prerequisite to all other units except 5007 (CPE) and 4116 (Cross-Cultural Travel Seminar).

5006. Supervised Ministry and Seminar. Enables students to deepen their understanding of the dynamics and practice of ministry, of themselves as persons in ministry, and of theological motifs that can guide ministry. Students are given opportunity in field placements to develop skills for the work of ministry, such as preaching, liturgical leadership, education, pastoral leadership, care, and counseling. Special attention is given to theological reflection on ministry and to the students' developing theology and theory of church and ministry. Includes work at the placement site as well as on-campus weekly seminar with peers. ACA-DEMIC YEAR: FALL and SPRING. [3–3] Field Education staff.

- 5007. Clinical Pastoral Education. Students apply to work in an approved CPE setting (hospital, hospice, congregation, etc.) with the supervision of a board-certified ACPE supervisor. Designed to make students more aware of themselves and their relationships, and implications of that awareness for ministry. Attention is given to the psychological and theological meanings of illness and health and to the students' role as ministers to patients and others. Readings, verbatim reports, seminars. SUMMER or FALL or SPRING. [6]
- 5008. Summer Intensive in Field Education. Students are engaged in an approved placement, with supervision, for a period of at least ten weeks, forty hours per week. The setting must have a clearly defined focus and opportunities for ministry. Case studies, evaluations, reading program, integrative essay. SUMMER. [6] Field Education staff.
- 5010. Year-Long Internship. To gain more extensive experience, students may undertake work away from the school for a minimum of nine months in an approved placement. The internship requires a focused proposal, competent supervision, and systematic accountability and evaluation. ACADEMIC YEAR: FALL and SPRING. [6–9] Field Education staff.
- 5011. Advanced Supervised Ministry and Seminar. Students are engaged eight to ten hours per week in an approved setting. Regular supervisory conferences, case studies, reading, evaluation. Includes weekly on-campus seminar with peers. ACADEMIC YEAR: FALL and SPRING. [3–3] Field Education staff.
- 5012. Special Project in Field Education. Permission of the Field Education Office required. [1–6] Field Education staff.
- 5014. Independent Study and Practicum in Field Education. At least 20 hours per week of work in an approved placement for at least 10 weeks. Disciplined reflection on that work with a supervisor; systematic accountability; reading and writing that is relevant to issues considered in the placement. FALL or SPRING or SUMMER. [3] Field Education staff.
- 4116. Cross-Cultural Seminar. Course work, immersion travel experience and field education work in a local placement designed to enhance awareness of cultural, economic, political, or religious differences in a culture different from one's own. SPRING or SUMMER. [3] Field Education staff.

Program Focus Course

5002. Senior Seminar and Project. The chief focus of the seminar is the development of the Senior Project. This should be the outcome of the Program Focus and should demonstrate the student's progress toward a theologically reflective ministry.

The Senior Project is intended to address what is perhaps the central problem of ministry, that of relating the Christian tradition to some specific moment or situation in ministry. The focus of the project should be the presentation or interpretation of some specific question or theme within a specifically designated situation. It is highly desirable that the student actually implement the project in that situation during the course of the year (e.g., a presentation and evaluation of perspectives on the nature of God to a specific church school class). The project may include the actual units of discourse (a series of sermons, a series of church school presentations), but it should also indicate that the student has analyzed the situation or event, approached it in a way that reflects the structure of theological study, asked what resources outside the theological disciplines may be called for, and developed a specific strategy for making the interpretation effective.

The seminar meets several times during the fall semester and provides a context for the consideration and development of students' ideas for their projects. The project itself is to be submitted in its final form by 1 December if the student is graduating in December and by a date in early March (established each year by the seminar faculty) for May graduation.

Required of all third-year M.Div. students. ENTIRE YEAR: FALL and SPRING [0-3] Staff.

Elective Courses

I. Church, Ministry, and Community

THIS area focuses attention upon the corporate tasks and dimensions of ministry, approaching these theologically and practically. The concern is for the work of ministers done in association with lay persons, as distinguished from work by the minister, such as preaching or counseling.

Ministry, Leadership, and Governance

2556. Leadership and Ministry. SPRING. [3] See Foundation Courses.

4008. Ministry and Morality. Looks at congregational life and ministry with an eye toward the complex and troubling ethical and theological dimensions that arise. Covers what is called "professional ethics" as well as what we may call "congregational ethics." Readings, discussions, and case studies in a seminar format. [3] Mr. Miller-McLemore. (Offered fall 2001)

4010. Surviving the Parish. Focus on practical questions basic to establishing competencies toward faithful parish ministry. How do ministers do what they do? What typical programmatic concerns will ministers face? These concerns will be balanced with students' interests in specific areas such as evangelism, finance and administration, stewardship, etc. Aiming students toward resources for further learning in practice. [3] Mr. Miller-McLemore. (Offered spring 2002)

4012. Liberation and Spirituality. Explores various liberation spiritualities that invite receptive modes of being in the world. Emphasis on models of spirituality (Howard Thurman, Thomas Merton, etc.) that encourage engagement of liberation struggle for social justice as the vocation of the church. [3] Mr. Harris. (Offered spring 2002)

4016. Ministry and Spirituality. Intends to articulate a basic vision of the Christian spiritual life and to explore several classical and contemporary practices that could sustain that vision in the current cultural context. FALL. [3] Ms. Scott.

- 4028. The Church and Homosexuality. An examination of biblical and historical attitudes toward homosexuality and lesbians and gay men. Other topics to be explored include sexuality as a political issue, denominational statements on homosexuality, practical ways of educating local congregations about the experiences of gay men and lesbians, and effective methods of doing AIDS education in the church. A variety of resource persons participate in the course. SPRING. [3] Mr. Lewis.
- 4032. Sexuality Education in Communities of Faith. Examination of how communities of faith have and have not provided sexuality education for congregants and other persons. Consideration given to educational methods helpful in sexuality education, denominational and faith-based curriculum resources addressing the questions of human sexuality, and theologies including human sexuality as an important topic. Community resources also used. [3] Mr. Lewis. (Offered fall 2002)
- 4102. Race, Religion, and Ethnicity in America. Examines the ethnical, historical, and theological framework and the cultural/political interplay between race and religion in the United States. Uses primary source documents and secondary readings as the basis for critical theological reflection upon racial justice in church and society. [3] Mr. Harris. (Offered fall 2002)
- 4115. Leadership Styles for Women in Ministry. An examination of women's experiences as leaders in the church, exploring various models of leadership and reflecting upon the role of women in shaping a new vision of the church. [3] Ms. Smith.
- 4126. Reading Course in Ministry and Higher Education. [Variable credit]
- 4127. Reading Course in Parish Problems. [Variable credit]

Religion and the Black Church

- 2564. Martin Luther King, Jr., and the Social Roles of Religion. Examines King's role as a religious leader and agent of social change with some attention to the intellectual sources of his thought and social activism. His views concerning the social roles of religion are seen against the background of classical Christian views, late nineteenth-century dissenting traditions, the early twentieth-century American Social Gospel Movement, and the more radical ideas of Malcolm X and Albert B. Cleage, Jr., during the 1960s. Critical evaluations of King are also made in terms of classical Christian views (e.g., Aquinas, Luther, Calvin, Wesley). SPRING. [3] Mr. Baldwin.
- 3011. Black Preaching. The theology and styles of black preaching. Sermons of the most effective black preachers of today and yesterday. Methodologies for effective outlining, manuscript development, and use of illustrations are discussed. [3] Mr. Smith.
- 3538. The Black Church in America. The development of the black church from the late 18th century to present. Major attention to black denominationalism, church leadership, and the involvement of the church in the social, cultural, intellectual, political, and economic areas of African American life. FALL. [3] Mr. Baldwin.
- 4003. Black Religious Leadership. Deals with concepts of leadership used by black religious leaders, with special focus on leadership, especially for ministry in the black community. [3] Mr. Harris. (Offered fall 2001)
- 4105. Theology and Ministry in the Black Church. The core of black church ministry is basically the same as that of other cultures. There are, however, cultural uniquenesses in the black church that must be understood if one is to be an effective pastor and/or leader in this tradition. Studies of the ways in which issues of justice and liberation have stamped the ministry style of the black church. SPRING. [3] Mr. Harris.

4107. African American Church and Ministry to Families. An examination of the unique history and traditions of the African American family, as well as the present economic and social crisis facing it, with particular attention to the church as a psychological/spiritual resource for healing and family wellness. FALL. [3] Mr. Harris.

Christian Education

- 2775. Minister as Theological Educator. [3] See Foundation Courses.
- 4201. Religious Education, Powerful Images, and Faithfulness. How faithful persons and communities of faith are bombarded with powerful images from the culture in which we live, like it or not. Has religious education largely ignored these powerful images and their impact on lives of persons and communities struggling to be faithful? How might we educate persons and communities to analyze and interpret images including popular religious artifacts? [3] Mr. Lewis. (Offered spring 2003)
- 4203. Christian Education in the Black Church. An examination of the history and contemporary issues of African Americans in order to explore their implications for Christian education. [3]
- 4206. Christian Religious Education, Imagination, and Creativity. The printed word and the spoken word often are seen as the primary resources for Christian education in the community of faith. Human imagination and creativity can be equally important in the ministry of Christian education. How are imagining and creating different from planning and programming? How can persons be invited and encouraged to recover and uncover their own imaginations and creativity? [3] Mr. Lewis. (Offered fall 2001)
- 4225. Reading Course in Christian Education. [Variable credit]

Ministry and Public Life

- 4021. Theology and Politics of Crime and Justice in America. Both theoretical and practical considerations, combining materials and perspectives from several theological and social science disciplines, such as theological ethics, social ethics, pastoral care, sociology, and missions. SPRING. [3] Mr. Wray.
- 4022. The Church and the Poor. Biblical and historical attitudes and responses to the poor. Focus is on the church's responses, e.g., charity, politics, evangelism, community organization, theological formulations. Included are interviews with involved persons, field trips, and other related activities. [3] Mr. Coleman.
- 4023. Law and Religion. An examination of the relationship between law and religion and an application of the perspectives of each to critical issues of our day. [3] Mr. Herron.
- 4052. National Capital Semester. Intensive, semester-long or summer two-week study of ethics, theology, and public policy at Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington, D.C., involving classroom study, extensive interaction with those involved in policy formation and critique at the national level, and discipline reflection. Arrangements are to be made through the Associate Dean's Office. [Variable credit]
- 4055. Theology in a Global Context: A Shrinking Planet and Expanding Obligations. Combines a two-week travel seminar with a semester long examination of questions and concerns related to doing theology in a global context. Readings include classic and current literature on globalization, theology and culture, contextual theologies, and texts specific of the country selected for travel. The details and location of travel vary from year to year, but may include South Africa, China, or Brazil. [3] Mr. Justad. (Offered spring 2002)

- 4112. The Church and Urban Community. A practice-oriented seminar designed to explore, through readings, case studies, and strategy planning, the implications of the urban environment for the institutional life of the church, and the role that congregations can play in the urban community. FALL. [3] Mr. Coleman.
- 4116. Cross-Cultural Seminar. Course work, immersion travel experience and field education work in a local placement designed to enhance awareness of cultural, economic, political, or religious differences in a culture different from one's own. SPRING or SUMMER. [3] Field Education staff.
- 4124. Reading Course in Church and Public Life. [Variable credit]
- 4226. Divinity/Law Seminar. Designed for joint law/divinity students to explore the relationship between law and divinity as disciplines and to study issues of concern to both areas of study. Topics may include the role of religion in legal ethics and judicial decision-making, church-state law, the practice of law as ministry, how religion affects the formation of law, law in the Bible, etc. Professors and practitioners in both divinity and law may be invited to share their insights. Limited to and required of students enrolled in the dual programs leading to the M.Div. or M.T.S. and J.D. degrees. SPRING. [1] Mr. Welch.

II. Pastoral Theology and Counseling

- WORK in pastoral theology reflects the intention to implement the following objectives:
- 1. To provide an occasion for students to examine their vocation in ministry as expressed in pastoral care and the establishment of helping relationships.
- 2. To understand the value and place of behavioral science research and wisdom as these relate to theology, the church, and the tasks of ministry.
- 3. To address issues impinging on the human person (e.g., personality and development, social structures, and justice) from traditional and psychological perspectives so as to encourage constructive theological understandings.
- 2550. Theological Foundations of Pastoral Care. FALL. [3] See Foundation Courses.
- 3053. Seminar: Contemporary Psychotherapy and Pastoral Counseling. Recent trends in psychotherapy. Theories of personality and personality change, as well as to strategies for psychotherapy. Students will assess critically the implications of these theories for pastoral counseling. Prerequisite: 2550. [3] Mr. Hummel. (Offered fall 2002)
- 3054. Seminar: Method and Evaluation. The use of the social sciences in the investigation of religious phenomena. The psychological analysis of religion. Representative studies and empirical investigations are sampled. SPRING. [3] Mr. Gay.
- 3055. Families: Theory and Practice. An intermediate seminar-style course focusing on practical concerns and theoretical understandings of current family issues and strategic solutions in theology, the human sciences, and ministry. SPRING. [3] Ms. Miller-McLemore.
- 3056. Seminar: Pastoral Method. Critical examination of the philosophical and theological assumptions of pastoral methods. Close attention given to the place of the social sciences in pastoral method. Considers issues in the use of quantitive and qualitative research methods. Permission of instructor required. [3] Mr. Hummel.

- 3057. Seminar: Theology and Personality. Variable topics. [3]
- 3058. Multi-Cultural Pastoral Care and Counseling. Multi-cultural pastoral care and counseling through a consideration of the biases of traditional western approaches to counseling and the issues for a pluralistic world. [3]
- 3060. Freudian Theories and Religion. An intense reading and discussion of fundamental texts in psychoanalysis and their relationship to Freud's critique of religion. Basic requirements and texts are introductory; more advanced students can use supplementary texts and approaches. [3] Mr. Gay.
- 3061. Post-Freudian Theories and Religion. An examination of the Object Relations school of contemporary psychoanalysis (M. Klein, D. Winnicott, W. R. D. Fairbairn, Otto Kernberg, Heinz Kohut). Focus on both the clinical and the explanatory theories as they relate to the examination of religious experience and similar self states. [3] Mr. Gay.
- 3064. Practical Theology: Past, Present, and Future. Examines the history, theory, and practice of practical theology. Considers the relationship between practical theology and the other theological fields. Particular attention given to the role of practical theology in theological education, cultural studies, and congregational research. Permission of instructor required. [3] Mr. Hummel. (Offered fall 2001)
- 3065. Psychology of Ritual and Myth. Examination of religious rituals and myths from both Christian and other traditions. Critical review of major psychological theories of ritual and myth. Their relevance to an understanding of myth and ritual as religious phenomena. [3] Mr. Gay. (Offered fall 2002)
- 3066. Health and Salvation. Investigates the theory and practice of pastoral health care from theological, historical, psychological, and ethical perspectives. Special attention given to the relationship between health and salvation in particular religious traditions and cultures and in the experiences of men and women. Explores pastoral responses to this relationship in healing services, health-care institutions, health-care ministries, congregational nursing, visitation of the sick, and social advocacy for health care. SPRING. [3] Mr. Hummel. (Offered fall 2001)
- 3067. Sexuality: Ethics, Theology, and Pastoral Practice. A critical investigation of selected readings in the general area of sexuality, intimacy, and relationships as they inform pastoral practice. Uses autobiography and case study methods in conversation with theories in social sciences, ethics, and theology. FALL. [3] Ms. Flesberg.
- 3068. Religion and Coping. Explores the phenomena of coping and religious coping with various kinds of stress and forms of suffering. Close attention to the psychological, social, and theological dimensions of these phenomena. The varieties of coping and religious coping with the theories and practices of particular religious traditions, cultures, ethnic groups, and communities examined. Theological treatises, individual accounts/community case studies, and historical narratives analyzed. [3] Mr. Hummel.
- 3069. Theories of Personality. A study of a representative theorist within each of the four forces of psychology to clarify alternative understandings of the nature of personality and approaches to the psychological sciences. Attention is given to relationships with pastoral theology and counseling. FALL. [3] Ms. Miller-McLemore.
- 3071. Pastoral Counseling in the Parish. An in-depth exploration of the parish context as it affects pastoral counseling; styles of relationship of pastor and people; images of pastor as healer and spiritual director; pastoral counseling and community; role of the laity in caring and counseling; pastoral diagnosis; and the relationship of counseling to ritual, worship, and other aspects of parish ministry. [3] Ms. Miller-McLemore. (Offered spring 2002)

- 3072. Pastoral Theology for Transitions and Crises. Examines various pastoral responses to persons facing transitions (e.g., birth, vocational choice, partnering, marriage, aging, and dying) and crises (e.g., illness, bereavement, and interpersonal discord). Close attention paid to the theological and psychological dimensions of these experiences. Current research in coping and religious coping theory to develop strategies for theoligical reflection and pastoral action. Prerequisite: 2550. [3] Mr. Hummel. (Offered spring 2002)
- 3073. Seminar: Theological Foundations of Pastoral Care. Literature from selected eras is used to discover the influence of theological and cultural understandings on pastoral care orientations and practices. [3]
- 3074. Seminar: Pastoral Theology. A study of methods and topics in pastoral theology, focusing on the history of the field, the development of its procedures and subject matter, and a variety of contemporary approaches, problems, and revisions. SPRING. [3] Ms. Miller-McLemore.
- 3079. Readings in Women, Psychology, and Religion. Focus on dialogue with feminists in the fields of theology, personality theory, and psychotherapy. Investigates (1) new developmental models and self-concepts; (2) altered views of therapy and therapeutic goals; (3) fresh understandings of theological and psychological world views; and (4) implications for pastoral care and theology. [3] Ms. Miller-McLemore. (Offered fall 2001)
- 3081. Spirituality and Pastoral Care. An exploration into the history and contemporary literature on spirituality within the pastoral care tradition. Topics include the differentiation between spiritual direction and pastoral care; the history of the cure/care of souls; feminist spirituality, African American spirituality, and spirituality from the margins. FALL. [3] Ms. Miller-McLemore.
- 3084. Readings in Heinz Kohut and Self-Psychology. Investigates the writings on self-psychology of theorist and analyst Heinz Kohut, with attention to the implications of his ideas about the formation and fragmentation of the self for individual health and development, cultural context, and psychotherapy and pastoral care and counseling. Evaluation of the theory in conversation with various critical theological perspectives. [3] Ms. Miller-McLemore.
- 3086. The Pastoral Theology of Lutheran Tradition. Explores the pastoral theology within the texts and praxes of the early Lutheran tradition. Particular attention to Martin Luther's writings regarding care for and the overcoming of suffering. The anthropology assumed in this historic tradition compared to the anthropologies assumed in the relational psychoanalytic psychologies of our time. Implications for important issues in constructive, historical and pastoral theology examined, e.g., God and human suffering, mutuality in pastoral care, society and the common good. FALL. [3] Mr. Hummel.
- 3087. Practical Theology and Historical Theology. Explores the relationship between practical theology and historical theology. Special attention given to the place of historical consciousness in the writings of Schleiermacher, H. R. Niebuhr, Gadamer, and select pragmatists. Consideration of the practical theological implications of various social and intellectual histories (e.g., accounts of pietist women reformers in eighteenth century Germany, activities of American antislavery religious movements, perspectives on children in the history of Christian thought). Various proposals to construct a critically historical, socially transformative, practical theology examined. [3] Mr. Hummel. (Offered fall 2002)
- 3088. Research in Practical Theology and Community Psychology. Intensive analysis of research in practical theology and community psychology. Methodologies of both disciplines used for individual proposals of research. SPRING. [3] Mr. Hummel.

- 3099. Pastoral Care for Addictions and Mental Disorders. In-depth examination of pastoral ministry for those suffering with clinically diagnosable addictions and major mental disorders. VI. Theology THEOLOGICAL reflection is an important dimension of all forms of ministry, contributing to both the theory and the practice of preaching, communication and education, counseling and other pastoral services, and social and institutional ministries. Theology as it relates to professional ministry includes several aspects: an understanding of methods of interpreting religious language and religious belief in the context of human experience as a whole; a familiarity with current issues in theological discussion raised by the confrontation between Christian faith and life in the contemporary world; and knowledge of the literature of past and present theology. The courses in theology are designed not only to provide basic tools and information in these areas, but also to engender a discipline of continuing reflection and study.

Interpretation, Language, and Belief

- 2505. Religious Autobiography. A study of various religious traditions through autobiographies that provide an insider's perspective, the perspective of believers. The intention of the course is to show how beliefs and concepts are actualized in people's lives. Readings consider the genre of autobiography—its nature and purpose as well as its variety (e.g., characteristic differences between autobiographies by men and women). The focus is on Christian autobiographies, but includes authors from other religious traditions. [3]
- 3308. Theology of Education. Classical and contemporary theories of education, focusing on theological interpretations of the educational process and on religious dimensions of teaching. FALL. [3] Mr. Hodgson.
- 3310. Men, Masculinities, and Religion. How have androcentric, male-supremacist forms of masculinity shaped, and been shaped by, religion in the west? Recent thinking from the - critical study of men and masculinities (men's studies) will be engaged to explore this set of questions. Specific attention given to R. W. Connell's "hegemonic" masculinity, the diversity of men's experience qua men (race, sexual orientation, etc.), and the male body and/in religion. FALL. [3] Mr. Justad.

- 3334. Theology and Hermeneutics. Modern and postmodern theories of interpretation and their significance for theological method. SPRING. [3] Mr. Hodgson.
- 3335. Religious Language. A study of the nature and interpretation of religious language, especially its similarities with and reliance on poetic language, through an investigation of key poetic forms, e.g., metaphor, narrative, parable, symbol, model, analogy. Deals with critiques of religious language as, for instance, in deconstruction and feminist perspectives. [3]
- 3537. The Holocaust: Representation and Reflection. Explores fundamental questions about the nature of history and representation, the nature of the human and the divine, that the Holocaust raises. Prerequisite: 3524 or its equivalent. SPRING. [3] Mr. Geller.

Current Issues in Systematic and Philosophical Theology

- 2655. Theology Primer. SPRING. [1] See Foundation Courses.

- 3315. Creation and Ecology. Recent theological treatments of creation in light of ecological crises and scientific-technological developments. Readings include various views of nature, evolution, and biogenetic intervention and differing theological responses. [3] Mr. Meeks. (Offered spring 2003)
- 3316. The Doctrine of God. Surveys an array of contemporary constructions of the doctrine of God from a variety of theological standpoints: process, trinitarian, postmetaphysical, narrative, revisionist, feminist, and others. Particular attention given to issues of epistemology, metaphysics, and the tension with classical constructions. [3] Mr. DeHart.
- 3317. The Doctrine of the Trinity. Classical and modern formulations of the doctrine of the Trinity, with reference to questions concerning divine process, the relation of God and the world, and the problem of belief in God. [3] Mr. DeHart.
- 3318. Economy and Theology. Critical retrieval of biblical and trinitarian understandings of the "economy of God" in relation to contemporary economic theory. Focus on the church's response to major economic problems related to property/inclusion, work/income, and consumption/sustainability. [3] Mr. Meeks. (Offered fall 2001)
- 3319. Ecclesiology. The study of recent theologies of the church with concentration on the nature, sacraments, ministries, and mission of the church in twenty-first century societies. [3] Mr. Meeks. (Offered spring 2003)
- 3320. Christology. Contemporary theologies of the life, work, death, resurrection, and presence of Jesus Christ. Focus on ways in which views of salvation, self, society, and nature interact with the memory of Israel's Jesus. Readings from Jewish, eschatological, feminist, black, and ecological perspectives. [3] Mr. Meeks. (Offered spring 2002)

- 3321. Process Theology. Consideration of the ways process philosophy has been used in the development of Christian theology. Initial attention given to works by Alfred North Whitehead and Charles Hartshorne, followed by sustained discussion of major contemporary process theologians. [3]
- 3322. Theology of World Religions. The recent interreligious dialogue and its implications for Christian theology. The way in which global religious pluralism affects the nature and task of theology and the relation among major world religions as claims to truth. [3] Mr. Hodgson. (Offered spring 2002)
- 3323. Spirit, Community, and Social Theory. Study of the doctrine of the Holy Spirit in contemporary theology in dialogue with recent social theories (Bourdieu, Walzer, McIntyre, Taylor, Milbank). Focus on problems of embodiment, identity, law, language, community formation, gifting, etc. SPRING. [3] Mr. Meeks.
- 3326. Seminar: Philosophical Theology. Subject: Hegel and Whitehead. FALL. [3] Mr. Hodgson.
- 3328. Eschatology and Apocalypse in Modern/Postmodern Theology. The development of eschatological and apocalyptic theology in relation to the modern and postmodern experience of evil, guilt, and death. SPRING. [3] Mr. Meeks.
- 3330. Seminar: Contemporary Theology. Selected readings in contemporary theologians and theological issues. [3]
- 3331. Theology of Nature. A study of issues that arise when a theological perspective is brought to bear on the subject of nature: ecology and the destruction of the environment, the nature of human beings in evolutionary and biological perspective, and the activity of God in the operations of nature. Works in the history, philosophy, and theology of nature are consulted. [3]
- 3339. Latin American Theology. A survey of theological production in Latin America, Catholic and Protestant, with a focus on Liberation Theology—origins and development, concerns and parameters, critical reception and present status. [3] Mr. Segovia. (Offered fall 2002)
- 3340. Feminist Theology. A study of various types of feminist theology including mainline reform theologians, radical feminists, black womanist and third-world theologians, and goddess thealogians. [3]
- 3342. Feminist Hermeneutics. An exploration of the revisionary interpretation feminists are currently proposing in such areas as literary theory, anthropology, psychology, ethics, and philosophy and their possible effect on contemporary theology and biblical analysis. [3]

- 3976. Reading Course in Ethics. [Variable credit]
- 3977. Reading Course in Medical Ethics. [Variable credit]

VIII. History and Critical Theories of Religion

WORK in the area of history and critical theories of religion is offered largely by the Department of Religious Studies in the College of Arts and Science.

The inclusion of history and critical theories of religion in the curriculum recognizes the presence of religious awareness and its expression in all major cultures of the world and the increasing mutual interpenetration and involvement of these cultures.

The courses in this field are designed, therefore, with three purposes in mind:

- 1. To introduce students to the history, main beliefs, institutions, and rituals of several of the great religious traditions.
- 2. To provide those interested in further study of one of the specific traditions the means to follow that interest through more advanced courses.
- 3. To give students some insight into the practice of phenomenological and historical methods of studying religions.
- 3128. Jewish Messianism. A study of messianism and messianic movements in Jewish history in the common era, including contemporary manifestations in Europe, Israel and North America. [3] Mr. Sasson. (Offered spring 2002)
- 3156. Jewish and Christian Self-Definition. A study of the various options (social, theological, scriptural, practical) facing Jews and Christians in the first three centuries C.E. and of the processes by which the various communities narrowed those options in their attempts to establish a normative identity. [3] Ms. Levine.
- 3311. Modern Critics of Religion. An examination of the relationship between the critique of religion and the understanding of modernity. Focus on the writings of Feuerbach, Kierkegaard, Marx, Nietzsche, and Freud. [3] Mr. Geller. (Offered spring 2002)
- 3500. What is Religion? A consideration of the ways of studying religion and of the understandings of religion that lie behind these approaches. Resources for the investigation are drawn from contemporary scholars and from the world's religions. [3] Ms. Arai.
- 3501. Judaism in New Testament Times. An exploration of the varieties of Judaism that emerged from 200 B.C.E. to approximately 200 C.E. Included are discussions of the Maccabees, the politics and religion of the Hasmonean dynasty, the Dead Sea Scroll community at Qumran, the Sadducees, Pharisees and Essenes, Philo, the early church, and early rabbinic Judaism all placed in their Hellenistic and Roman contexts. Attention to major themes in the development of messianism and apocalypticism. [3]
- 3502. Judaism and Modernity. An historical and cultural analysis of the dilemmas Jewish emancipation presented to both Jews and non-Jews in Europe, examined through the study of a variety of popular and elite cultural representations of Jews. How anti-Semitism became entangled with the problem raised by modern understandings of gender, sexual, racial, class, and self identity. [3] Mr. Geller. (Offered spring 2003)
- 3503. The Jewish Heritage. A survey of Jewish history and literature for a better understanding of Jesus' Jewish roots and its important foundation of both Christianity and Islam. Sponsored by the Jewish Chautauqua Society. [3] Mr. Falk.

- 3506. Judaism and Christianity: Historic Perspectives and Contemporary Concerns. Beginning with Jesus of Nazareth and continuing through Vatican Council II, we seek to understand both the common ground on which Jews and Christians stand and those forces and factors that have sought, throughout history, to divide us. Sponsored by the Jewish Chautauqua Society. [3] Mr. Falk.
- 3507. Twentieth-Century Jewish Philosophy and Thought. Twentieth-century Jewish thought demonstrates that Judaism remains contemporary only through confronting a perplexing and changing present. This basic thesis is explored through the writings of Martin Buber, Abraham Heschel, and other selected Jewish theologians and philosophers. Sponsored by the Jewish Chautauqua Society. [3] Mr. Falk.
- 3509. Introduction to the History and Critical Theories of Religion. Overview of major thinkers and works that have defined the scientific and critical study of religion. FALL. [3] Mr. Geller.
- 3510. Jewish and Christian Relations: Historical Perspectives and Contemporary Concerns. Basic knowledge in the most vital areas of Jewish and Christian traditions and beliefs. As the students acquire insights into the wisdom of both Jewish and Christian legacies, we seek to develop respect for the common ground on which we stand and for the theological areas in which we differ. Sponsored by the Jewish Chautauqua Society. [3] Mr. Falk.
- 3511. Zen Buddhism. A study of the development of Zen Buddhism in China and Japan with special attention to its basic philosophy, its position within Mahayana Buddhism, its meditational techniques, and its contemporary significance. SPRING. [3] Ms. Arai.
- 3512. Buddhist Traditions. The thought, practice, and history of Buddhism from its beginnings in India, through the development of its Theravada, Mahayana, and Vajrayana traditions, to its present status in East and Southeast Asia. [3] Ms. Arai. (Offered spring 2002)
